Rites For Noted Poet Are Planned

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Funeral services will be held Sunday for Robert Underwood Johnson, 84, poet, editor, director of the Hall of Fame at New York University and former ambassador to Italy, who died at his home yesterday after a long illness.

Johnson, frequently called the unofficial poet laureate of the United States—many of his odes and sonnets were written spontaneously in honor of some outstanding personage, to praise an outstanding achievement—wrote his last poem three weeks ago, "Muir at Yosemite," dedicated to John Muir, co-founder with him of the movement which resulted in the creation of Yosemite National park. Knew Many Great Men The genial, white bearded poet was born in Washington on January 12, 1853. In 1876 he married Miss Katharine McMahon of Washington, who died on Dec. 31, 1924. Their son, Owen Johnson, is the author of "Stover at Yale" and many other books. As editor of "Century Magazine," Johnson became an intimate friend of Gen. U. S. Grant, Mark Twain, Thomas Nelson Page, Joel Chandler Harris, Helen Hunt Jackson and Richard Watson Gilder. President Wilson appointed him ambassador to Italy in 1920. He remained in Rome until July 1921.

PUBLISHER VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 15.—(UP)—A series of traffic accidents during the last 24 hours left one man dead and five injured, three seriously, police reported today. O. M. Phelps, co-publisher of the La Mesa Scout, El Cajon Valley News, and Mountain Empire Bulletin, was instantly killed when he was struck by an automobile driven by Henry Mukai, 16, Japanese high school student, as he crossed a street in La Mesa. Phelps came to California one year ago from Mobile, Ala., where he had been executive secretary of the chamber of commerce. Phelps' death brought San Diego's city-county traffic toll to 76 for the year.

Boy Bandits Face Federal Charges

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Melvin Bonds and Alfred J. Smith, both 16, of Sacramento, Cal., were held in city jail under $1,500 bond each today awaiting federal grand jury action on charges of transporting a stolen car from California to Arizona. The two daring "Boy Bandits" who wrote of their exploits in a "Crime Chronicle," assertedly stole nine cars in California and two in Arizona and robbed stores at Casa Grande and Gila Bend, Ariz. The car they allegedly brought into this state was stolen at El Centro, Cal. Because they are juveniles, B. E. Sackett, Arizona chief of the federal bureau of investigation, said the youths probably will be returned to Sacramento for prosecution by California authorities.

"SPEEDS TO JAIL" POCATELLO, Ida., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Ray Kimball's motorcycle and side-car have a carrying capacity of eight passengers. Kimball, 15 year old Pocatello youth, boasted today. Also, the equipment ran 40 miles per hour with its full load. Chief of Police Robert Pugmire verified the claim. He jailed young Kimball after the motorcycle with its load passed his police car at full speed.

BRAIN TRUST TO CONDUCT NIPPON WAR

SHANGHAI, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Japanese military spokesman admitted today that the North China campaign in Shansi had been halted by the Chinese. He added that the Japanese were awaiting supplies and reinforcements before attempting to continue the advance. The spokesman said that bandits were causing the Japanese some concern in Manchukuo. China is importing many new planes the spokesman said but could not explain where they were from.

BRAIN TRUST TO GUIDE JAPAN

TOKYO, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Ten eminent men representing the army, navy, finance, politics and diplomacy were named today to form a supreme war policy council for the duration of the Chinese emergency. A sort of national brain trust, but one that enjoys full official status—the new council will hold their first meeting Tuesday at the residence of Prince Fumimaro Konoye, the premier. Their appointment, with the sanction of the privy council and the emperor, was a recognition of the fight that Japan faces not only against an aroused China but against nations of the world, in pursuing the policy which her leaders say she will carry through at whatever cost. All meetings of the supreme council, including the first, will be held immediately after the cabinet meets.

EX-WIFE KILLS HER SUCCESSOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—(UP)—The divorced wife of a handsome Reno waiter, maddened by jealousy, lay in wait 48 hours to murder her former husband's bride, then killed herself in a downtown hotel today. Police said Mrs. Nell Reynolds, 47, the divorced wife, shot her rival, Mrs. Naomi Nelson Reynolds, 22, three times with a revolver. The victim died instantly. Then Nell Reynolds turned the gun on herself, inflicting a head wound from which she died two hours later. In Reno, Jack Reynolds, the husband said: "It looks like a case of pure jealousy." He did not elaborate. Mrs. Nell Reynolds left a note addressed to her brother and sister in Dallas, Tex., in which she said she had told Reynolds and his new wife that she would kill them both before she would permit them to live together. "...I signed the divorce papers but told Jack at the time that I didn't care whom he married after he was free, except one woman.... Naomi Nelson, from Palm Springs, Cal. And I told Jack and her too that I would kill her before she could have him."

DUTIES OF BISHOPS INCREASED AT MEET

CINCINNATI, Oct. 15.—(UP)—The Protestant Episcopal church holding its triennial convention here, increased duties and powers of the presiding bishop but left the question of his tenure of office to be decided today. Because of time given to consideration of this question, the House of Bishops had to postpone its election of a presiding bishop until Saturday. The House of Deputies agreed to a canon approved by the bishops making the presiding bishop ex-officio president of the national council, executive board of the church. The proposed retirement age was changed from 70 to 65.

NABBED ON CHECK CHARGE PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Harley Williams, 18, of Lake City, Fla., was held in city jail under $500 bond today pending charges of passing a $15 bogus check. Police said the youth told them he was "hungry and broke" when he tried to obtain the money.

Yaquis Pray For Life Of White Chief

TUCSON, Ariz., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Yaqui Indians, discouraged by swiftly spreading word that the aged white woman who first taught them the A B C's by scrawling in the sand will die, pleaded desperately with their gods today to spare her. Dr. Edward J. Potthelf abandoned hope for Miss Thamar Richey, 79, first teacher of the Sonora war refugees, young and old Yaqui moved in and out of a crude little adobe hut—their first schoolhouse—and prayed. They asked the power that gave them their teacher to save her for them. The frail little woman, now retired on a pension, was a beloved character to the Yaqui. As a reward for her tireless work in bringing to them the wisdom of the white man, they named her the unofficial chief—seeking her counsel when in trouble, her aid when sick.

WINDSOR WILL "ENTER TRADE"

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., writer, today said the Duke of Windsor "will enter trade" as soon as he completes his American tour.

The former King Edward VIII of England definitely will not be associated with the film industry, Vanderbilt said. He said the Duke will tour the world in behalf of the company shortly after the first of the year. Vanderbilt said the itinerary of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, the former Wallis Warfield, will be as follows: Arrive in New York late in November; go direct to Baltimore; motor to Philadelphia and Chicago; fly from Chicago to San Francisco; motor to a ranch in San Luis Obispo county; stay at ranch three days; motor to Los Angeles and stay at Santa Monica homes; spend few days at Palm Springs; fly to Mexico City; fly to Miami, Fla.; board Vincent Astor yacht for Bermuda; after few weeks sail on world cruise.

HEAR TESTIMONY IN PRICE FIXING CASE

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Prosecuting attorneys today called on the last of the midwestern oil jobbers summoned by the government as witnesses in the price fixing conspiracy trial of 23 major oil companies. Jobbers from Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri testified yesterday that they were unable to make a living under contracts available to them from the indicted companies. Oscar L. Peterson, who said his company is the largest independent oil jobber in Illinois said that all companies' contracts were different in 1930, but an increasing number of similarities appeared until now all are uniform. He named Socony-Vacuum, Cities Service and Skelly Oil.

GABLE EXTORTIONIST FACES DEPORTATION

Violet Emily Norton, sentenced to serve one year in the Orange county jail upon conviction of using the mails in an attempt to defraud Clark Gable, the film star, today was ordered to show cause Oct. 18 why she should not be deported to England. She will appear before U. S. Commissioner Franklin Davis, Federal Building, Santa Ana. The 47-year-old British woman claimed she knew Gable as "Frank Billings" and claimed he was the father of her 14-year-old daughter.

DUCE CALLS TROOPS HOME FROM SPAIN

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(UP)—France and Italy may make mutual concessions of importance in an effort to prevent a final break over the problem of foreign volunteers in the Spanish Civil War, it was reported today. A situation that seemed almost hopeless and led France and Great Britain to consider the advisability of the fortified island of Majorca in the Balearics group was brightened by the following reports: 1.—That France, as a final concession to Premier Benito Mussolini, might agree to recognize the Spanish Nationalists as belligerents coincident with the actual start of withdrawal of volunteers from Spain. 2.—That Mussolini himself had decided, on his own initiative, to withdraw 5,000 of his troops from Spain soon. The second report was accompanied by the assertion that as the result of any Italian withdrawal of men, for whatever reason the powers might be expected to agree quickly on recognition of the Nationalists as belligerents.

SEEK TO HONOR BEACH HEROINE

Miss Dee Williamson, 15-year-old heroine daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Harry H. Williamson of Newport Beach, probably will be in receipt of a Carnegie Hero medal within a few weeks, it was believed today, following request forwarded to C. B. Ebersol of the Carnegie Hero Fund commission at Pittsburgh. The request was sent by Secretary Harry Welch of the chamber of commerce. Miss Williamson dove into Newport beach Monday after Johnny Jones, 12, was knocked into the water by dredging machinery and suffered a fractured skull, and dragged him to safety. The boy's unconscious form was reported wedged beneath the dredger. Today's report from St. Joseph hospital revealed that Johnny had a fairly good night and appeared to be out of danger.

ASSERTED SWINDLER HELD FOR BRITISH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(UP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today announced that Alexander Strakosh, wanted on international swindling charges, has been apprehended in Los Angeles. According to federal agents, Strakosh entered the United States with an Austrian passport. The FBI notified the commissioner of London police of Strakosh's apprehension. He will be arraigned and held in custody pending the filing of a warrant for his provisional detention by the British authorities.

PROCLAMATION

Santa Ana and vicinity has made a splendid growth in recent years, not only in population, but in the building of fine homes, the erection of fine schools and churches, and by a splendid development of the surrounding agricultural areas. The welfare and happiness of our people has depended in a large part upon a sound and stable real estate market, which protects the home owner in his investment. Therefore, we direct public attention to the enhanced monetary values and the basic virtues of citizenship built upon home ownership. Never has there been a time when there was greater desire for home ownership with its benefits of thrift and security. Our citizens feel a real pride in this county of well-built homes. In view of these advantages, now, therefore, I, Fred C. Rowland, Mayor of the City of Santa Ana, hereby proclaim the week beginning with the third week of October, 1937, as "Real Estate and Home Ownership Week," and respectfully urge all our people to join in its observance. In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Santa Ana, California, to be affixed this 15th day of October, 1937. FRED C. ROWLAND, Mayor of Santa Ana.

Japan Cause Not Favored By Vatican

Editor's Note: Because of reports circulating in the United States regarding the Vatican's position on the war in China, the United Press asked its Rome manager, Stewart Brown, to obtain an authoritative clarification of the Vatican's viewpoint. By STEWART BROWN VATICAN CITY, Oct. 15.—(UP)—The Holy See has been, and remains, strictly neutral in the conflict between Japan and China, and resents dispatches circulated abroad that the Vatican has instructed its missionaries in the Far East to take sides with Japan against Communism in China. The church's position was officially stated by the highest Vatican authorities to be that the Holy See is opposed to Communism, as proclaimed by the Pope, that the church, through its representatives in China and Japan, as well as other countries, will combat Communist tendencies, but that no

COMMISSIONER STARTS PURGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Chairman Frank R. McNinch initiated today a reorganization of the federal communications commission which portended far reaching policy changes. McNinch's first drastic step as the President's "Trouble Shooter" indicated that he was prepared to uproot commission policies which have brought threats of a congressional investigation. Ell nation of the broadcast, telegraph and telephone divisions will be "divided responsibility" among the commissioners. Dismissal Directors The three division directors who will be dismissed Nov. 15 as a result of McNinch's announcement are A. G. Patterson of Alabama, director of the telephone division; John F. Killen, director of the telegraph division. "Commissioners not on a particular division have felt a natural reluctance to inquire into the work committed to others," McNinch explained. "Hence, they were denied effective expression of their views upon pending matters."

FORD PLANT STRIKE ENDS; OFFER TERMS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 15.—(UP)—The United Automobile Workers today withdrew pickets from the Ford assembly plant and offered terms for ending the lock-out strike over which Ford officials threatened to abandon the plant. Pickets were recalled last night as a gesture for peace. Jack Swift, U. A. W. district representative, said "All we want to do is see that every man gets back to work as soon as possible." He said the U. A. W. would not object to the company re-employing members of an Independent Ford Workers Union, so long as they were not hired to the exclusion of U. A. W. members. The other U. A. W. demand was that non-unioners be employed until all regular workers were given jobs.

Big Boy Meets Tiny Girl

Miss Catherine Cooper, sophomore honor student at Santa Ana Junior college, who is believed to be the smallest college co-ed. She is 18 years old, stands 56 inches tall, and weighs only 85 pounds. She is shown here with Cy Leivermann, giant tackle on Santa Ana's championship football team. Leivermann is 6 feet 6 inches in height and weighs 225 pounds.

FAMOUS FOR ITS CHAMPIONS, SANTA ANA JUNIOR COLLEGE NOW CLAIMS TINIEST CO-ED

Santa Ana junior college fast is becoming a school of champions. The North Main street institution boasts All-American publications in its weekly campus paper, "El Don," and the year book, "Del Ano." It boasts a championship football team. This year Ruth Jump, national diving champion is a student at Santa Ana jaysse. All these championships trend toward bigness. Now Santa Ana Junior college claims another title—that of the world's most diminutive co-ed. The little bundle of humanity is Miss Catherine Cooper, 18-year-old sophomore honor student, who is exactly 56 inches tall and weighs only 85 pounds. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Cooper, 1641 East Winslow street, Pasadena. She graduated from Santa Ana High school in 1936 and resides here at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, dean of women at the junior college. Started at Berkeley All the fuss over the shortest co-ed started at the University of California last week when the Berkeley institution claimed the world's crown for Miss Gertrude Folman who is 57 inches in height, according to press dispatches. But the Dons aren't content with having the smallest co-ed as they

FREEZING WEATHER HITS CENTRAL U. S.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Chilling blasts from the northeast today gave the central plains states their first taste of winter. Snow covered many sections of Iowa and came down in light flurries in Missouri and Kansas. Temperatures dropped below freezing in Iowa where a low of 22 degrees was reported from Charles City and Iowa Falls. Kansas City had a minimum of 40 and several Kansas stations reported temperatures down near the freezing point. A record was set at the St. Joseph, Mo., weather bureau when a sheet of ice coated the streets with ice. Some apple orchards were damaged. It was the earliest snow or sleet in the records of the 37-year-old weather office.

MERRIAM TO OFFICIATE SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Governor Frank P. Merriam was to arrive here late today to be the honor guest and to officiate at the formal dedication of the new 150-foot wide El Cajon boulevard, and its $600,000 worth of improvements.

ANTI-FASCISTS ARRESTED ROME, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Seventeen more anti-Fascist "intellectuals" have been sentenced to prison on charges of plotting to overthrow Premier Mussolini, it was disclosed today. Three others, now outside Italy, were similarly accused.

Navy Plans Mass Flight To Hawaii

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 15.—(UP)—For the third time, within a period of 12 months, the navy will send a squadron of 12 giant patrol bombers winging non-stop across the Pacific to Hawaii early in 1938, it was announced here today. At the headquarters of Rear Admiral E. J. King, commander of aircraft scouting force, it was said the flight would follow shortly after the mass flight of squadron VP-2 to Coco Solo, Canal Zone, announced yesterday for "early December."

KELLY IN DEFENSE OF GAS TAX USAGE

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Diversion of gasoline tax funds for any purpose other than construction and maintenance of highways would doom California's road system to a "return to the days of the Padres," Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works, warned here today. "When we begin to divert the gas tax funds we are through with highway construction in this state," Kelly said. The public works director said the highway commission today is faced with the necessity of finding a source for $35,000,000 which is needed badly for replacement of dangerous and obsolete bridges in all parts of the state.

CONFERENCE PLANNED TO END "WAR"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 15.—(UP)—The Committee for Industrial Organization proposed today to the American Federation of Labor that committees from the warring forces meet during the week of October 25 to organize a peace conference. "It is suggested that this preliminary meeting be held in Washington during the week of October 25, 1937. Phillips Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers organization committee, defended as "sincere" the original C.I.O. proposal that two committees of 100 members from each organization meet to seek an end to the labor war. "I want the country to know that the offer was made in good faith and in all sincerity," Murray said. "We are not interested in a long distance argument. We want unity in the labor movement." John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., did not comment.

C.I.O. PROPOSAL "HAS POSSIBILITIES"

DENVER, Oct. 15.—(UP)—George L. Harrison, chairman of the American Federation of Labor peace committee, said today that the C.I.O. plan for a committee of 10 to discuss settlement of labor's civil war "appears to have possibilities." Federation leaders, studying the

SEVEN DIE IN JEW, ARAB RIOT

JERUSALEM, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Unrest in Palestine over Great Britain's partition proposal caused furious rioting between Jews and Arabs today. In the last 24 hours at least seven persons, including two British constables, have been killed and approximately a score injured. The British constables were ambushed and killed on Hebron Road, near Solomon's Pools, where six police tenders were on patrol duty. There was a way of determining their assailants. Three unidentified persons were killed in the train wreck. After the explosion several shots were fired at the train. Two Arabs were killed and eight Jews, including two women, were injured in the bombing of the bus. The bus driver was arrested when authorities suspected that he shot one of the Arabs after the bombing.

ARREST EX-BANKER ON FEDERAL CHARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—(UP)—H. A. Wright, former cashier of the Sequel Citizens' Commercial & Savings Bank, and prominent civic and church worker, faced arraignment today on federal charges involving an asserted $2200 irregularity in the accounts of the bank. His arrest, according to agents with the Department of Justice, followed more than a year of investigation. United States Attorney Frank J. Hennessy indicated the investigation revealed Wright assertedly juggled accounts to "cover up" for an unidentified woman. Wright resigned from the bank about a year ago and retired to his poultry farm stocked with 2500 turkeys. Up until six months ago he was a member of the Santa Cruz board of education. He also was a member of the board of directors of the First Congregational Church of Santa Cruz; an organizer of the Sequel-Capitol chamber of commerce, and one of the founders of the bank in which he formerly was an official. He was released on $2500 bail.

Bear Sought For Murder of Child

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Reluctant Navajo hunters stalked the wild wastelands near here today for a "Mother-In-Law"—huge black bear that mangled to death a little Indian girl. The bear, to the Navajo, is a sacred beast—the legendary incarnation of a "Mother-In-Law" who has "Gone with the sun." She is killed only for the most serious offense—murder. When killed, the "Mother-In-Laws" soul will be transferred by an omnipotent medicine man to a firmly rooted tree, where it can be held in check.

VATICAN DENIES JAPAN FAVORED

memorandum was sent to the Far East advising Vatican representatives to support Japan.

Reports Ridiculous

Prelate after prelate declared that reports of the dispatch of such a document were ridiculous.

Cardinal Piumasi-Biondi, prefect of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, one of the highest offices of the church, announced through his secretary, Father Heinzen:

"There is absolutely no foundation for this rumor."

Monsignor Dominic Tardini, assistant secretary of state, said indignantly:

"It is not true; there is absolutely nothing in it."

Asked whether the Vatican intended to issue an official, formal denial, Mr. Tardini said it is not the custom for the Vatican to dignify such reports with formal answers.

China Friendly

It was pointed out that the Vatican maintains excellent relations with China and recently appointed a number of native bishops to shepherd the native Catholic community of more than 2,600,000.

In the absence of a formal denial, an authoritative Vatican spokesman said:

"The Vatican's policy in the Far Eastern conflict is one of complete neutrality."

"The church can only deplore a conflict between two nations as it deplores all armed conflicts and wars. The church intends to combat Communism in the mainly through propaganda action in its own missions and through the native clergy, which is well established in China but is practically non-existent in Japan."

SHERIFF OPENS QUIZ IN THEFTS

Sheriff's officers today were investigating a series of petty theft, two of which occurred on Coast highway between Newport Beach and Huntington Beach, when cars were broken into.

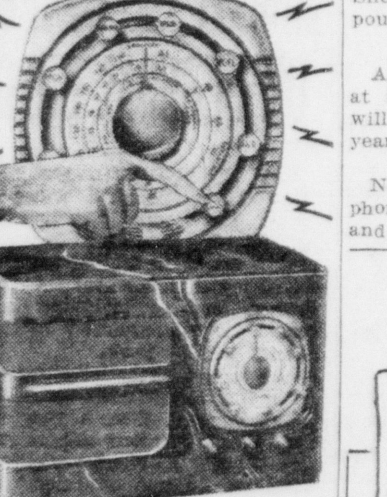

W. C. Henzie, Claremont, told officers early this morning, thieves took a $20 alligator skin brief case, $2 gloves, $1 glasses, 50-cent gear shift knob and eight gallons of gasoline from his unlocked car.

G. H. Henshaw, operator of Surfside camp, reported probably the same thieves, failing to cut through the top of his car, smashed a window with the gasoline cap, and stole an $8 stipple brush, $5.50 Ford canvas and $1 radiator cap. Blood on the car indicated the thieves cut their hands. Mrs. Donald C. Fortner, Route 4, Box 353, Paulmarino road, told sheriff's officers today, eight chickens were stolen from her ranch.

What Makes Japan So Scrappy

Whether on the battle line in China or in the world's junk yards, Japan is ready for more scrap. As her troops pour thousands of tons of steel shafts at Shanghai's defenders, her ships load up with scrap iron that can be made into munitions, below longshoremen at the American port of San Juan, Puerto Rico, direct the hoisting aboard the Glasgow Maru, at top, of scrap iron with which its hold was filled before sailing.

LABOR GROUPS IN PEACE MOVE

latest developments in preliminary peace negotiations between the two rival union groups, indicated a feeling of stronger hope than at any time since the John L. Lewis unions rebelled.

"The council will have to consider the latest proposal from the C. I. O. for appointment of a committee of 10 from each side to meet late this month and consider organization of a peace conference," Harrison said.

"Their decision will depend on whether impossible conditions are attached to the offer. But it appears to have possibilities. The main thing now is to get together."

It was understood the council would take up the proposal immediately after adjournment of the A. F. of L. 57th annual convention this morning.

NATIONAL LABOR BOARD "STRIKES BACK"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(UP)—The National Labor Relations board struck back at its critics today, by asserting that it "never ceases to have the hope" of satisfying both the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The members of the board issued a statement after an all day session yesterday. The statement said that the current intra-labor conflict tended "to obscure the fundamental results of the board's operations under the National Labor Relations act."

A few hours earlier at the A. F. of L. convention in Denver, John P. Frey, head of the metal trade department, said that he did not see how "congress can avoid" an investigation of the board from top to bottom. He indicated that the federation might support any attempts to obtain a congressional investigation.

The C. I. O. in convention at Atlantic City, considered a resolution which would brand the labor board as pro-A. F. of L. previously the federation has demanded that President Roosevelt start a "house cleaning" of the board because it leans toward the C. I. O.

SOUP KITCHEN TO BE OPEN AT BOLSA

Plans for the opening of a soup kitchen at the Bolsa grade school during the winter were completed today following a meeting of the Bolsa P. T. A. yesterday.

Mrs. U. C. Schuyling presided over the meeting. Mrs. Robert Cole was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Benson, program chairman of the group.

Newly elected officers include Mrs. Leroy Ater, secretary. Mrs. Laura Ward, Mrs. E. Kile and Mrs. Given were appointed room mothers.

One of the features of the meeting was that an executive meeting would be held before the regular monthly meeting. A group of girls directed by Mrs. Waters entertained, with refreshments being served by Mrs. Charles Sly, Mrs. Vena Richardson and Mrs. Richard Maher.

COALS BEAR CUBS PRIZED

SYDNEY (UP)—The first evidence that Koala bears can be reared in captivity was obtained here when three of the female Koalas in the local zoo came proudly down from the trunk of a gum tree for a fresh feed of leaves with their pouches occupied by three new Koala youngsters.

today that the nine-power treaty conference, scheduled at Brussels, would attempt to settle the Chinese-Japanese war through mediation.

The President intimated that the session, if successful, might prove to be the first step in the broad program he outlined in his recent Chicago speech, in which he said America "actively engages in a search for peace."

Mr. Roosevelt declined any specific comment, however, on the United States' possible future peace policy. He said at his press conference that anything written on the subject would be purely guess work.

DAMAGE TO SHANGHAI ESTIMATED AT BILLION

SHANGHAI, Oct. 15.—(UP)—The battle of Shanghai, which entered a temporary lull today after yesterday's furious Chinese offensive, has caused damage estimated by foreign sources today at approximately one billion dollars.

This was approximately double the damage of the 1932 siege and in addition 80 per cent of all trade has been halted and 90 per cent of the city's industrial workers are idle.

An additional horror was revealed by municipal authorities who announced today that numerous Chinese children are dying weekly in refugee camps due to malnutrition resulting from shortage of milk.

They reported four dead during the past week in one camp alone and while the total deaths were not revealed it was noteworthy that there are 123 local refugee camps.

Halt Nippon Advance

A Japanese spokesman admitted that in the north the Japanese were encountering difficulties and the advance in Shansi had been halted by stubborn Chinese resistance. Japanese troops were awaiting reinforcements and supplies.

A snowstorm which swept over Shansi also impeded the Japanese but the final struggle for possession of Taiyuan was expected to begin shortly.

Chinese and Japanese troops fought to a standstill today and Shanghai was granted a respite after the most terrible hours of the two month battle for the city.

On both sides were exhausted. They had fought hand to hand with every weapon they had. Late today they carried on their war dispiritedly. Japanese airplanes dropped a few bombs at four points in the Chinese lines in and around the city. But only out in the Voosung Creek area, where Japanese are trying to establish an advanced line, was there a semblance of the savage fighting of all last night.

U. S. Marines Shelled

U. It was announced today that China's most famous sing-song girls would broadcast tonight and tomorrow night and radio listeners were invited to ask for numbers in return for contributions to war funds.

T. V. Soong, chairman of China's Liberty Loan committee, asserted today that more than 250,000,000 yuan worth of liberty bonds had been subscribed at par—a total of $75,000,000.

"Our men are subscribing," said Soong, "and worthily. It is in fact a pleasing contrast to the situation in Japan where war bonds are forced down the throats of bankers whose portfolios were overloaded already with government bonds. Thus is accelerated the collapse of Japan's economic and currency structure."

THREE MEN FINED ON DEER CHARGES

For possession of a doe on the afternoon of October 9, near Trabuco, Charles L. Joslin was fined $150 by Judge Landell of San Juan Capistrano this week, while Joslin's companions, John H. McGuire and Virgil C. Heard of Westminster were fined $50 each.

The three men were arrested in Hamilton canyon, near Trabuco, by Leo Mathis, state fire warden, when Joslin, with the doe on his back, and accompanied by McGuire and Heard burst through the brush into the presence of Mathis and David Scherman.

Joslin testified that he had found the deer dead and that he had secured the aid of his companions in bringing it out.

Joslin was given 24 hours to remit the $150. Heard paid his fine. McGuire paid $40 of his fine and was given time to remit the remaining $10.

CYCLIST HURT IN COLLISION

Two automobile-bicycle collisions were reported today by city police. On Main street at Central avenue, early this morning, a car driven by William John Francis, collided with the rear of a bicycle ridden by L. A. W. Henry, Paulmarino, crushing the bicycle and smashing front headlight, radiator grill and hood. Henry suffered cuts about the eye.

Officers were informed Richard Esparanza, 12, 1632 West Second, riding on Flower street between First and Second, yesterday, ran his bicycle into the side of a car driven by Frank A. Dane, 904 North Placer. None was injured.

Early today on Garden Grove road, cars driven by Albert Taylor, 27, Anaheim, and Ray Alford, 24, Anaheim, neighbor, collided. When Taylor slowed down Alford, driving behind failed to stop in time to avoid rear end collision, officers were informed.

BANKERS IN DRIVE TO BALANCE BUDGET

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Four thousand American bankers went home today, pledged to campaign against the federal deficit and the extension of branch banking beyond state lines.

The 63rd annual convention of the American Bankers association ended yesterday. Choice of the 1938 convention city was left to the December meeting of the administrative council.

President Orval W. Adams of Salt Lake City, Utah, called on delegates to convince their millions of depositors that continued deficits will curb purchasing power.

"We must stimulate such an insistent public demand as will result in a balanced budget," he said.

Court Notes

Western Fruit Growers and the National Automobile Insurance Company today appealed to superior court from an award of $557.61 made by Justice C. P. Pann, of Huntington Beach, in favor of A. Curtis Case and Bertha C. Case, who had sued for $281.50. The Cases claimed the amount was due on an agreement to purchase oranges.

Three suits for divorce were on file today in superior court, as follows: Kathryn E. Lloyd, of Fullerton, against Wilbur J. Lloyd, charging cruelty; Terra M. McGowan against William H. McGowan, charging nonsupport; Charles H. Knoop against Minnie B. Knoop, charging desertion.

MCADOO STARTS 1938 CAMPAIGN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 15.—(UP)—U. S. Senator William Gibbs McAdoo moved into the southern San Joaquin valley today on a state-wide tour, preparing for the 1938 campaign which he said would find Democrats sweeping California.

His first stop was Stockton. Thereafter he was to visit Modesto, Merced, Madera and Fresno, proceeding from Fresno to Santa Barbara by airplane. He announced last night he had cancelled a projected visit to Redding because of "insufficient time due to the congressional call."

McAdoo voiced whole-hearted approval of the special session.

"What's the difference?" he asked reporters. "It simply means we'll get away earlier in the spring. All the matters would come up six weeks later anyway."

Referring to President Roosevelt's international "quarantine" address, he expressed belief that the United States "is not going to have war with anybody."

"The president is working directly for peace," he explained. "Certainly we wouldn't expect him to sit quietly by and not try to bring peace to a troubled world."

ANGLIM MAY THROW HAT IN STATE RING

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—(UP)—Informed sources said today that Clifford Anglim, chairman of the Democratic State Central committee, definitely will be a candidate for the lieutenant governorship in 1938.

Although Anglim's only comment was a smiling remark that "I've heard that story so often I'm beginning to believe it myself," it was said reliably he will be listed on the ballot next year. Previously Anglim, a Richmond resident, had been mentioned as a gubernatorial possibility. He is accompanying Senator McAdoo on his tour of the state.

GAS WORKERS TAKE IN NEW MEMBERS

The local chapter of the Pacific Gas Workers' Union had a busy session last night with approximately 125 in attendance, Russell Rowland, secretary, announced.

New members were voted in, and it was revealed by John H. Fox, president of the local chapter, that membership in this district has been boosted to 175.

Keith A. Clark, President of the which have been formed in the Pacific Gas Workers' Union, was Monrovia, and Pomona districts, present, and told of new chapters. According to Clark, the total membership in the union at the present time is over 900.

A fourth member of the Strategy Board for the local chapter was elected. The board now consists of James A. Merigold, Ed Hawkins, L. E. Griffin, and Earl T. Rowland.

SLAPS COSTLY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15.—(UP)—It cost Pat Truco $15 to get his son, Lawrence "even" with a neighbor's children. Police charged Pat with battery after they said he entered the home of Mrs. Laura Gage and slapped her several children because Lawrence said they slapped him.

TOUCHDOWN SENTENCE

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Howard Yenger, Santa Barbara state college halfback, can earn $10 by scoring a couple of touchdowns against Redlands tonight. Police Judge Harsh ordered Yenger to pay a $10 fine for speeding, but allowed two touchdowns would settle the bill.

TUSTIN MAN IS JAILED FOR 185 DAYS BY COURT

Ralph Collar, 45, Tustin rancher, was "collared" twice by police in the past three weeks. As a consequence, he was sent to county jail this morning by Judge D. T. Hayden, city judge and justice of the peace, at Tustin, for terms of 180 days and 50 days.

Apprehended by Police Chief John Stanton, Tustin, three weeks ago, and charged with drunk driving, Collar was scheduled to appear this morning in Tustin city court. Yesterday, Judge Hayden called sheriff's officers. "Collar is sitting in his car out on Trabuco road, a mile or so east of the Edison plant," the judge reported. "I think he's intoxicated."

Another Workman
Deputies James Workman and A. W. Fullerton, who went to the spot and arrested Collar, admitted the judge was right.

"As city judge, I sentence you to serve 180 days in jail and, as justice of the peace, I sentence you to 50 days in jail," Judge Hayden told Collar today. Collar had been out on bail between arrests.

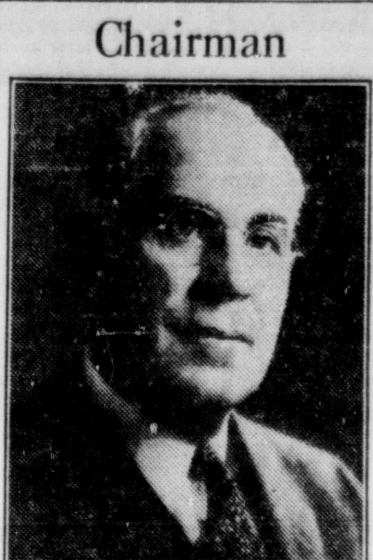

With Collar yesterday, was Wesley Stewart, about 40, Laguna Beach. He too was arrested—on drunk charge. Judge Hayden fined him $15.

BOSTON MAN FACES NAZI, KLAN CHARGES

BOSTON, Oct. 15. — (UP)—Charges that he heads Nazi propagandists in Massachusetts and is "directly tied up" with the Ku Klux Klan's Illinois-Ohio-Michigan realm's Grand Dragon were expected to be answered today by Edward H. Hunter of Boston.

The legislative commission inquiring into radical activities in the state announced it would give Hunter, president of the Industrial Defense association here, a chance to defend himself against the accusations of John L. Spivak, former European news correspondent.

DEMURRER IS FILED BY MOTHER IN CASE INVOLVING DAUGHTER

Accused of misrepresenting the age of her 12-year-old daughter, in filing a parental consent to the girl's marriage two years ago, Mrs. Lou Kilpatrick today filed a demurrer to the charge in superior court.

The demurrer, presented by her attorneys, was based on the contention that the formal charge of presenting a false instrument does not constitute a public offense. Hearing of the demurrer was scheduled late today by Judge James L. Allen.

The girl, Gladys Kilpatrick Stanton, was a mother at 13, and is now 14. Mrs. Kilpatrick is alleged to have filed consent to the marriage, stating her daughter's age to be 16 at that time, April 17, 1935.

Trouble between the husband and his relatives over care of the infant born to the child bride led to discovery of the asserted misrepresentation of age.

TRIPLETS BORN AT L. B.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Oct. 15.—(UP)—Triplets were born today to Mrs. J. Ellis Dion, Hollywood bond salesman. They are two girls and a boy and weigh from four pounds, 4 ounces, to five pounds, seven ounces.

Physicians at Seaside Hospital said they were "in fine shape" and will live.

Hubbel's local offenses were committed March 21, 1936, when he passed bogus checks of $25 and $28.50 at Horn's and Gallenkamp's, Santa Ana stores. At his trial, Elia Rucker, employee of one store, testified that "I cashed the check because he looked like an honest man."

PLACENTIA IS WINNER IN SUIT AFTER FLOODS

City of Placentia, the winner! Sued in Santa Ana justice court by Myron D. Clay, apartment house owner, for $550.50, Placentia won when Judge Kenneth Morrison held that the city was not negligent in connection with the flooding of the apartment house last February during rain storms. He held that Clay should not recover damages.

Gus Barnes, police chief and street superintendent; George L. Bates, city engineer; Nellie M. Cline, city clerk and J. E. Hartley, street sweeper, were among those who testified. Placentia showed that a home-made dike, constructed by a private citizen outside of the city limits actually had caused the flood waters to back up into the apartment house, it was reported.

Bit of Mirth
Barnes and Hartley testified they kept the culvert near the Clay property cleaned out as much as possible. It was testified, also, that children, playing in the drainage ditches, often left their play materials there when finished with them, but that these were cleaned out as soon as possible.

A bit of mirth was injected into the proceedings yesterday when tobacco-chewing Hartley, called unexpectedly to the witness stand, mumbled an "excuse me" and rushed to a receptacle outside of the court room, in the hall way. He returned a moment later, a broad grin on his face. The spectators, court attaches and the court himself laughed.

City Atty. Thomas McFadden of Placentia, represented the city, Atty. Harry O. Warton, Clay.

In 1930, 33,596 scientists were employed in 1420 laboratories in the United States.

FENELON TELLS REGISTER HE "DEFINITELY IS NOT TO BE" CANDIDATE IN 5TH DISTRICT

BY GEORGE HART

County Purchasing Agent Eugene Fenelon is absolutely, positively, emphatically, finally and definitely NOT going to be a candidate for supervisor in the fifth district.

Fenelon was asked that question today by The Register. He immediately showed the whites of his eyes, reached for a pencil and marked two large capital letters on the nearest wall. They were N-O. Then he added several exclamation points. Then the adverbs began rolling off his tongue. "Not if it's Last!"

One gathered that Mr. Fenelon was NOT going to be a candidate for supervisor.

"Not if it was the last job on earth," he affirmed. Whether recent observations of the board of supervisors moved the purchasing agent to excited denial of candidacy, or he was merely being loyal to Supervisor N. E. West, who aided Fenelon's present appointment, he did not explain.

But he waved his hand vigorously at the "N-O."

IDEALS OF JAYSEE PATRONS' GROUP TOLD ON EVE OF DRIVE

Now that members of Junior College Patrons' association are ready to launch their year's membership drive, an outline of the association's aims and activities has been provided by Mrs. Z. Bertrand West, president of the organization.

Mrs. West has pointed out that the association is one of many California college groups organized primarily to co-operate with faculty members in promoting the welfare of the student body and its varied activities. Prominent among projects with these aims in mind, have been the securing of student loans from the California Congress of Parents, and to give through college deans, such immediate aid as students may require.

Help To Students
This aid, according to officers of the association, is frequently required for immediate needs, and is a very vital factor in the lives of students. Because of activities of the local association in the past two years, five graduate students have been enabled to secure funds sufficient to complete their university courses.

Since it is necessary for the association to raise funds to meet such needs, a series of benefits will be given during the coming months. It is for this reason that everyone interested in the Junior college, is asked to join the association, regardless of whether they have young people who are members of the student body. Membership fees of a dollar and may be sent to Mrs. Charles V. Doty, 410 West Walnut street, treasurer of the association.

Generous Offer
As an example of the interest being taken by those already identified with the group, one member, Mrs. L. R. Wilson of Tustin, has offered to donate all commissions on magazine subscriptions and renewals, to the Student Aid fund. Other members, aware of Mrs. Wilson's generous gesture, have already arranged to place such magazine orders through her.

AFTER 4 YEARS, SPEEDER PAYS TWO $8 FINES

Nearly four years after he was arrested for speeding, Harold H. Weltz, of Orange, appeared in Judge J. G. Mitchell's city court to answer for the arrest. Back in November, 1933, Weltz was arrested for speeding but failed to appear in court for trial. Again on March 30, 1934, a similar case was charged against him. Again he did not appear.

In accordance with the regulations of the state, the city court sent his name and address to the state department of motor vehicles, advising that office of Weltz's infraction.

Others on Docket

Yesterday the "long arm of the law" caught up with Weltz and he paid two fines of $8 each.

Tommy H. Croddy, 801 West Third street, was fined $10 and his operator's license suspended for 30 days following his arrest on a speeding charge. Boyd E. Whitney, 625 Lacy street was fined $5 for speeding.

Other speeders fined recently were Fred Flores, San Gabriel, $5; Fred Newcomb, Rt. 1, Box 188, $6; Lola E. Cleland, 728 1-2 Chestnut, $5; William J. Wells, 511 East Bishop, work order for $7; George Kidd, Costa Mesa, work order for $8; Harry Stephenson, 410 Grant street, $6; and Richard Champ Story, 208 West 20th street, $5.

Joe De La Luz Alcarez, 640 Emmett street, was fined $150 for driving while intoxicated.

ALTRUSA CLUB TO ISSUE "ROUND-UP"

Meeting last night with their president, Miss Dewey Neumeier, 216 East Walnut street, Altrusa club members completed plans for the autumn number of the district club publication, "The Round-Up." Miss Nell Donovan will mimeograph the magazine which is made up of news from all the clubs in the district. It will be ready for distribution at the first November meetings of the various clubs.

Miss Neumeier read an invitation from Long Beach club to a dinner complimenting Miss Rexie Bennett, district governor, the exact date of which will be announced later. Santa Ana club will plan for a representation.

Under director of T. Dunstan Collins, the regular N. Y. A. band concert will be held tomorrow afternoon in Birch park from 2 to 3 p. m., it was announced today.

The following numbers are scheduled for the program: March, "Colonel Conway," Ted Collins; overture, "Norma," Bellini; waltz, "Wedding of the Winds," Hall; serenade, "An Autumn Romance," King; march, "Hosrausess," Chambers; overture, "From Dawn to Twilight," Bennett; idyl, "The Glow-Worm," Linke; march, "From Tropic to Tropic," Alexander, and the "Star Spangled Banner."

GUESTS FETED BY S. A. LIONS

Approximately 80 guests from the Pomona club gathered at the Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon as the guests of the Santa Ana Lions club in celebration of Visitation day.

A musical program, provided by the Pomona club, and a report of the meeting of the district governors by Roy O. Day, district governor from Pomona, were the chief attractions of the day.

Musical Program
Under the direction of Robert Hollingshead, chairman of the Pomona young artists committee, Tom Clarke sang several baritone solos; Rose Paider sang several selections, and Roy Cooper entertained the group with piano selections. An orchestra from Pomona composed of Ray Adams, Jack Childs, Ed Newton and Esper Keiser, provided music during the luncheon.

Jack Childs, accompanied by Ray Adams, gave two saxophone solos. Frank Harwood, president of the Santa Ana club, was in charge of the meeting and introduced Walter Guerin, of Pomona, who acted as chairman of the day.

Previous to the entertainment, Glen Tidball gave a report on the Community Chest and Don Jerome reported the winning of the golf cup in the inter-service club tournament.

Percival Lowell figured out the course of the planet, Pluto, almost exactly, but never saw the planet itself.

4,750 CARS ARE SENT FROM S. A. CITRUS AREAS

With packing this week to wind up the 1937 Valencia shipping season for the associations affiliated with the Orange County Fruit Exchange, officials of the organization announced today, the total shipments of valencias from the local district packed and loose, will be approximately 4,750 cars.

There were 6,775 cars, packed and loose, shipped last year, the officials said.

Heaviest on Record
"While the shipments from this district as well as the entire State of California are short as compared to last year the total supply of oranges and grapefruit that have moved into the markets of the United States and Canada have been the heaviest on record," the official statement said. "The total shipments for the 1937 season from all producing states including California, Arizona, Florida, Texas, Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi have exceeded 140,000 carloads which is approximately 1200 cars greater than the all time record of 1935."

"All of the Exchange houses in the district have handled a most difficult crop in so far as general condition was concerned with a minimum loss of good fruit. Knowing full well the problems connected with a frost year the Associations of the Orange County Fruit Exchange installed prior to the opening of the season all available frost handling equipment including water separators and X-Ray machines."

"The X-Ray Machines or Fluoroscope proved to be of great value in salvaging the maximum amount of fruit, and especially was this true on lots that were difficult to handle on account of large amounts of partially frost injured fruit. With the newly developed fluoroscope a shipper can know for sure that the fruit he is sending to market measures up in quality to what the consumer has a right to expect.

Shippers Commended
"The California Orange industry acted wisely in agreeing unanimously to continue the regulation of shipments of oranges under a voluntary program during the past Valencia season, even though the Secretary of Agriculture deemed it advisable to suspend temporarily legal prohibition on account of the shorter crop in California and the higher price levels. "Shippers are to be complimented for the spirit of cooperation that has prevailed in living up to the Pro-rates issued. It was not necessary to report a single violation during the entire year. The growers' returns for the 1937 crop of valencias, have in our opinion, been increased over what they might have otherwise been by the intelligent regulation of the weekly shipments to conform with the market demands."

ROOSEVELT P.-T. A. TO FETE FATHERS

"Fathers night" will be the feature of the Roosevelt elementary school P.-T. A. meeting next Tuesday, with Calvin C. Flint, dean of men at Santa Ana junior college, as the principal speaker.

Flint will talk on "Peace Through Education". Entertainment will be provided by Made-

MISSIONARY RALLY TO BE HELD OCT. 29

Plans have been completed for a district rally of missionary societies from the Christian churches of the Santa Ana district, to be held in the First Christian church at Fullerton October 29, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. It was announced today by Mrs. Grace E. Heartfield, of Santa Ana, secretary for the district.

Miss Allena Grafton, state secretary for Southern California, will conduct a conference on missionary work. A returned missionary, selection of whom will be announced later, will be the guest speaker. All of the missionary societies of the district, which includes Santa Ana, Orange, Fullerton, Brea and Whittier churches, will participate in the program.

PLAN DOG SHOW ENTRIES
Glady Berkheimer and Mrs. Cecelia Baile, both will enter toy fox terriers in the Santa Ana dog show to be held Saturday and Sunday in the Santa Ana national guard armory, officials announced this afternoon.

Line Taxton, who will give a piano-accompanied solo, Sam Campbell, vocal selections, and the Lathrop Junior High trio, Betty Haynes, Beverly Short and Mary McDouell.

GENTLEMEN, WE GIVE YOU THE MOST MODERN CHASSIS IN THE WORLD

ON DISPLAY
OCTOBER 16TH
at BUICK Showrooms
Everywhere

Under the new beauty of Buick, modern engineering makes history, co-starring the DYNAFLEX ENGINE and TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING

WHAT HAPPENS inside the 1938 Buick engine happens nowhere else in the world.

That is not advertising language, it is cold-steel engineering fact.

Speeding through the raceways of the intake manifold, the fuel mixture vapor hurricanes into the cylinders at speeds around 250 miles an hour.

As it sweeps past streamline valve contours, a scientifically designed Turbulator, built into the piston face, flings it into airswirls of terrific turbulence.

The spark that leaps through that compact storm-center sets off a flashing cyclone of power, exploding with tornadic force!

Sitting in the driver's seat you become aware of power that is livelier and more brilliant because gasoline is giving up more performance than it ever gave up to motorists before!

TO MATCH this incomparable stride, Buick engineers now give you a kind of springing you will likewise find on no other car in the world.

Poised on jarless coils of easy-flexing steel, Buick floats free of bobble, jar, chatter, jounce.

The car will not over-steer or under-steer—skidding, even on icy highways, is blessedly reduced.

Rear tires no longer scuff half their life away through power-wasting wheel-slip.

Through winter and summer, without need of grease and without "seize" from rust, dirt, water or ice, springs keep their gentle, even cushioning for the life of the car.

YES, IT IS a great story, the story of these twin engineering triumphs in the 1938 Buick.

So great a story that it obscures half a score of other advances, themselves enough to make any car a wonderful buy.

We invite you to learn more about them this week at any Buick showroom.

"Better buy Buick!"

MERRIAM SAYS RELIEF WORK WILL CONTINUE

This state's relief program will be permanent, it was forecast by Governor Frank F. Merriam at a meeting of county welfare executives in Yosemite early this week, according to Jack W. Snow, Orange county welfare director, who has returned from the conference.

The governor told the meeting that until recently he had hoped improved conditions would permit discontinuance of the unemployment relief program in California but that he is now convinced such relief must be continued.

Shifted To Counties

Increased responsibility for the administration of Old Age Security laws will be shifted to the counties under a new program of handling applications, Snow reported.

"At present the state department at Sacramento makes a prompt check on work done by county welfare departments," Snow said. "Under the new program, the state will investigate county procedures only at irregular intervals through field agents and audit. Full proofs of eligibility will be retained in county files instead of being referred to Sacramento for final approval."

MISSIONARIES TO BE HONORED NEXT SUNDAY

Homecoming and Missionary Day at the Church of the Brethren, Ross and Camille streets, next Sunday, will give occasion for the church to honor the Stovers, pioneer missionaries of the Church of the Brethren.

Mrs. W. B. Stover, who, with her husband, went to India in 1894 and opened up the missionary work that now has more than 500 active members, including native doctors, nurses, teachers, pastors and evangelists, is a resident member of the Santa Ana church and will speak at the Sunday morning church hour.

Informal Discussions

The Rev. Edgar Rothrock, former pastor, will preside at the afternoon service. A number of those who knew the Stovers in school and were familiar with the missionary situation of that early day, will be present to take part in the informal discussions of the afternoon. In the evening, the church will observe the Lord's supper and communion.

Mr. Stover died in Washington. The family has resided in Southern California for the last several years. Daniel Stover, a graduate of LaVerne college, now is a teacher in Julia Lathrop high school here.

Male Quartet

Mrs. Earl Royer, a daughter, is a registered nurse and lived in Anaheim until recently. Mrs. Cleo Berry, the other daughter, lived in La Habra, where her husband teaches in the schools. A son, Emmert, teaches in LaVerne schools. The sons and daughters all will be present Sunday, except James, who lives in Washington. All were born in India, except Mrs. Royer.

Besides the speakers at Sunday's service, the Apollo Four male quartet, in which Daniel Stover sings bass, will present several numbers. Emmert Stover will sing a solo, and the Stover family will sing a chorus number.

A basket lunch will be served in the church dining room.

PREVIEW WILL BE HELD AT WALKER'S

Preview time at Walker's theater is set for tonight at approximately 9 p. m., according to announcement of Manager Vic Walker today, and will be added to the regular program as a special attraction.

The current bill, "Captain Blood" and "In Caliente," go on as usual. "In Caliente" at approximately 7:45 p. m., "Captain Blood," to follow the preview. Since the preview will be shown but once, patrons are urged to attend the theater early tonight.

"Information received from the studio this morning says the preview will be a most interesting comedy," Walker declared, "but, as usual, information regarding the picture's title and its stars is held a dark secret as a surprise for the audience."

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids in nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germladen phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Ken Murray Says

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 15.—For a race that has only given us acrobats and jugglers, and no comedians, the Japs can sure develop a sense of humor in war time. Like Gen. Sugiyama, their war minister, saying the other day that Japan doesn't intend to seize a single inch of Chinese territory and all the bombing and carnage is just to "restore genuine friendship" between the two countries. It'll take a swell gag man to stop that one.

The Chinese are good at puzzles, though, so maybe they can figure out how genuine friendship is restored with aerial bombs and poison gas. And I'd certainly hate to be a Chinaman if Japan decided to quit being friendly and really got mad.

But maybe I don't understand the Oriental mind. Maybe China, as a token of her friendship for Japan, should drop 40 tons of T. N. T. on Tokyo, set fire to the factories in Osaka and shell the day-lights out of Yokohama. Then maybe that beautiful friendship between them would be getting somewhere.

I just plain dunno. But if my Jap gardener out here should slug me on the skull with a shovel, I'll know he's my pal. I've learned that much.

LANDING UPSETS DUCK

VENICE, Fla. (UP)—A Canadian blue-bill duck discovered here that everything that appears like water isn't water. The duck, winging its way south from winter's chills, apparently took a sun-flooded paved street for a river. It circled and glided upon the concrete.

Stamp News

Think This Over

You can't take your stamps with you when you die. Of course you have thought of that in an offhand manner, but it's scarcely possible that you have ever considered it seriously. One doesn't like to think of death, but if there's a wife and children one should make proper provision against the time when death is no longer around the corner, but—here! If you are the average adult stamp collector you spend about two dollars a week on your collection, and if you have been collecting for twenty years you have expended over two thousand dollars. You've had a lot of fun doing it, but—shouldn't you forget that those stamps might be worth over twenty-five hundred dollars to your family in the event they could be sold properly. But, for every collection sold properly there must be a hundred others sold for a mere pittance. You should have a will, with proper provisions therein for the disposal of your collection. If you are fortunate enough to belong to a society that will look after the proper disposal of your collection, then you can make very simple provisions in your will to that end. If you have a lifelong friend who knows stamp values and can be implicitly trusted, provisions can be made for him to dispose of your holdings. But, in any event, there are several auctioneers who can be trusted to dispose of collections worth a thousand dollars or more, and—your widow will be ever grateful if your will makes the proper arrangements. You may be in the best of health today, and you may expect to live to a ripe old age (who doesn't), but, there's plenty of traffic accidents and—you may be next! If you should die tonight, you'd want to know that your widow, who probably doesn't know the difference between a Zambesia stamp and a Hottentot, will be able to sell it for full value, instead of disposing of it to some sharper for one cent on the dollar. Put your house in order, and now!—Al Burns—Weekly Philatelic Gossip.

Arbor Day

There is an interesting story regarding the Arbor Day stamp. According to the Philadelphia Bulletin, the artist who designed the stamp needed a little boy and girl to pose as if planting a tree. So he selected the children of his boss, who was chief of the Bureau of Engraving at Washington, D. C. The children were Alvin W. and Ruth E. Hall.

"Alvin and Ruth really had no right to be on the stamp," officials say, "as it is against the law to reproduce portraits of living persons. However, as just a little boy and a little girl they are all right."

"As an extra precaution," the Bulletin states, "the artist cut up the photographs, rearranged them, and took certain liberties in painting, so that even close friends would have difficulty in recognizing Alvin and Ruth unless they were in the know. The central design shows Ruth holding a tree in position while Alvin fills the earth around it."

The stamp was issued in commemoration of the birth of J. Sterling Morton.

Stock Market

The writer noticed in Tuesday's paper a big drop in the stock market. Although not so much has been made in stamps they have never gone below face like so many market stocks have in the past.

Notes

We have been advised that the rate on Trans-Atlantic air mail has been set at 25 cents. Date for the beginning of the service will be announced shortly.

Watch the U. S. stamps surcharge.

ed Canal Zone soar in values. Recently $400,000 worth of these old stamps were burned in the Gorgas Hospital. "The issue contained ordinary stamps," states the Kaw Chief Stamp Journal, "of one, two, five, ten, twelve, fifteen, twenty-four, fifty and one dollar denominations representing a face value of $4,878,975." Besides these were postage due stamps and others.

Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico use the same stamps as continental United States.

Owning a copy of every pre-cancelled stamp listed in the 18th edition of the Standard Bureauprint is the record held by Dr. S. P. Hallam, Indianapolis, Ind.

Someone has set up the claim that the 1923 black Harding stamp, perforated 10, is over-priced. Doesn't the law of supply and demand cover the pricing of stamps the same as that of commodities. We believe it does.

The issuance of so many commemoratives by the present Postmaster General of the United States has developed into a "rackety" by the present administration to increase revenues. Collectors and speculators are "falling" for it to the tune of hundreds of thousands of dollars monthly. Notwithstanding all this the Postoffice Department continues to show a loss in operation. The only really good feature about the whole business is, that United States stamps are always good for postage, regardless of age.

The issuance of the Army and Navy series by the United States recalls an episode in history; the first salute given to the American flag by a foreign power at St. Eustatius, West Indies, on November 16, 1776.

It is true that there is no hobby so interesting, so educational, so absorbing as stamp collecting. Hours can be profitably spent in sorting and classifying stamps.

Very few persons have a collection of newspaper stamps issued by the Postoffice Department. The reason is: Newspaper mailing was by the pound; and when a publisher mailed his edition he paid the postage in cash and the postmaster made out a special receipt, affixed stamps thereto to the amount of postage, and sent the receipt to Washington as evidence of payment of postage.

New collectors of stamps apparently fail to understand the reason for prices charged for new issues of foreign mint stamps. They do not realize these stamps have to be purchased from governments at face value, the same as United States stamps are purchased. The cheap foreign mints are those which have been discontinued for obvious reasons and are sold at a discount to dealers.

There has been a great deal of criticism pro and con over the Goya stamp of Spain. Why should Spain be criticized for recognizing her most famous artist, notwithstanding he had a notorious reputation? The reproduction of his painting of the Duchess of Alba is not any worse than some of the half-tone reproductions appearing in the Nudist magazine of this country, or some of the pictures appearing in French periodicals.

On September 15, nearly 1000 designs had been submitted to the Treasury Department by artists seeking to win the prize money offered for the three best designs in green that could be used on a 1-cent stamp. It will be some time before the judges' decision can be announced.

So far as we note that the new Northwest Territory 3-cent stamp carries better perforations than stamps of previous issues. The Bureau of Engraving and Printing can well afford to use a little pains in perforating stamps. The appearance of the perforation on the usual sheet of stamps recalls to mind the old-time printing office devil, who didn't care what kind of work he turned out so long as he got through. Why not write the Postmaster General demanding better perforations. He's our servant, not our master.

How to Use Stamp Hinges

Many good stamps have been ruined because uninformed collectors have stuck them down permanently with glue or paste. Let it be said here, once and for all, that the only proper way to mount stamps in an album is with little gummed slips of transparent paper that are called "stamp hinges." Hinges not only enable you to insert and remove stamps from your album with ease and efficiency, but also prevent damage to stamps and album.

One picture is worth a thousand words of explaining the use of stamp hinges, so we refer you to the diagram and notes below:

1. Bend back the top third of the hinge, and lightly moisten the gum at the end of it as indicated by the shaded area in the drawing. (Most collectors moisten hinges by licking them, careful to use a pure and almost tasteless gum.)
2. Attach the hinge to the top of the stamp, with the crease of the hinge protruding just above the perforations.
3. Moisten the lower third of the hinge as indicated by the shaded area.
4. Now turn the stamp over and attach the hinge to the album page.

5. The stamp has now been pressed into place. Note that it is really "hinged" (in the usual sense of the word) and may be turned up and over for inspection. Many collectors make lightly penciled notations (of cost, catalog value, etc.) beneath their stamps, to which they may turn for ready reference.

The great advantage of using hinges is that, when the hinges are dry, they may be easily peeled off both stamps and album pages without damage to either. But—WARNING—never try to remove a hinge while it is still wet. Unless you allow plenty of time for drying (about half an hour) the removal of a hinge may result in a torn stamp or a hole in your album page.

Questions dealing with stamps will be gladly answered by C. W. Clarke, Stamp Shop at Steins, 307 West 4th, Santa Ana, when accompanied by stamped, addressed envelope.

THREE NEW PASSENGER CAR CAR UNITS, COMMERCIAL BODIES ADDED BY WILLYS

TOLEDO, Ohio.—Three new passenger car units and a line of light commercial units are featured in the new Willys line of motor cars and trucks which was formally presented to the buying public on October 3. The new car is now being shown by Willys dealers who now total more than 3,000.

Production schedules call for a total of 125,000 units, an increase of approximately 100 per cent over the total production of Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., from December 1st to August 15th, the period during which manufacturing was continued on the 1937 models.

Factory employment which totaled 5,000 men at peak production periods during the past several months, will be increased to 8,000 men, according to a statement made by David R. Wilson, President, when the plans for 1938 were announced.

Additions to the passenger car line include an Economy and DeLuxe Coupe and a Custom Sedan, especially designed for affording the utmost in economy of purchase price as well as operation.

Sedan models now include a Standard, DeLuxe and the new Custom type, while the Coupe models include a Standard, DeLuxe and Economy model.

Entry of Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., into the commercial car field is marked by the introduction of an entirely new type of ultra economical light delivery complete with closed cab, a half-ton pick-up with enclosed cab and complete equipment, including the bumpers, front and rear, spare tire, etc., a half-ton cab chassis, a cowl with cab and a commercial chassis without cab or cowl. The last three models are essentially adapted for the use of any type of commercial body which may be required by the user; with the newly added commercial car production

Willys enters an exceptionally broad field of sales with a vehicle of distinctive advantages.

All half-ton commercial units will be equipped with heavy commercial type springs and rear axles.

All models closely follow the original Willys lines, which are covered by U. S. Patents and which attracted markedly favorable attention throughout the country when they were first disclosed in October of last year. Attractive striping in a variety of colors add to the attractiveness of the hood louvers. The drip moulding follows the general roof contour of the body.

The individual styling of the hood, which lifts completely from the front to provide easy access to the motor, is retained. Piano type hinges are now used on the hood.

The bodies in the passenger car line are distinguished by their low appearance and the fullness of contour which has permitted the manufacturers of the Willys to offer wider seating space, especially in the front seat of the Sedan models and in the Coupe, than is offered by any other car in the light car field.

FINE FISHING IN ROGUE RIVER AREA

Fishing is fine in the Rogue river, Oregon, according to reports received by the Outing Department of the Oregon Highway Commission. The lower Rogue is full of Chinook and silverside salmon and fishing continues excellent near the mouth. Fly fishing for steelhead has been good on the riffles of the lower river. Excellent catches have been reported from points 10 to 30 miles up river.

Fly fishing for steelhead in the Grants Pass section has been slow, due to bright days. Fish have headed for the deep holes. Cloudy weather will stop this condition. Royal Coachman has been the best fly for all around use. March Brown, Gray Hackle, McGinty, Professor and the brown and white bucktails are also getting results. Spinners have been very productive.

CATALINA FISHING FAIR
Catalina waters are yielding fair catches of tuna, sheepshead and bass, reports the Outing Department of the National Automobile Club. The tuna are taking small bait and most of them are being landed on No. 1 wire and 2-0 hooks. Coastal waters are offering fine fishing for bonita and bass. Some of the bonita caught have weighed from 10 to 12 pounds.

New Willys Features Roominess

SILVER ACRES

SILVER ACRES, Oct. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson and son, Mervin, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Drake and children, Jackie and Shirley, went to Eagle Rock recently to visit Mrs. Patterson's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Crandall.

Mrs. Emma Ryan, of Long

Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Spintea and their daughter, Virginia Spintea, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Van Dine, all of Long Beach, were recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Van Kiersbelk.

Announcement is made that the Christian Endeavor society of the Silver Acres Community church will hold its meetings at the church, beginning on October 17, at an earlier hour, 6 p. m. Miss Laura Mae Kent, of Santa Ana, gave an interesting talk, on "Choices" at the last meeting. Miss Annette McClintock, Mrs. Cora Wheatly and Miss Marion McClintock were guests at dinner Monday evening of Mrs. Bertha Delano McCracken.

REDWOOD ROAD IS IMPROVED

United States 101 through the Redwood Empire is being improved so that it will be in fine shape for winter travel, reports L. L. Norris, Touring Director of the National Automobile Club.

Two and three-tenths miles of new highway have been completed and opened to travel, just north of Trinidad. Several bad curves were eliminated by this project. Five and seven-tenths miles just before reaching the Oregon state line, were completed and opened to traffic in late September. The 3.7 miles north of Laytonville are scheduled for completion about November 1; and the oiling now under way from Eureka to 5.2 miles south thereof should be finished about October 28.

Completion of these projects means that travel over the Redwood highway will be smoother and faster than ever before, and should provide an unusually attractive trip during the fall months.

OCEANVIEW

OCEANVIEW, Oct. 15.—The program presented by the Boys' choir of Pasadena at Santa Ana high school in connection with the teachers' institute was attended by teachers of Oceanview school, John Peterson, Roscoe Bradbury, William Leedke, Jane Crawford, Miss Caldwell, Mrs. Luther Payne, Miss Helen Schoenberg and Mrs. Mildred Moulton.

William Leedke's seventh grade pupils were taken on an educational trip Tuesday by school bus to the Western Trails museum of Marion Speer at Liberty Park.

Miss Delia Hilliard, of Orange, a sister of Mrs. Clarence Breeding, was entertained as a houseguest in the Breeding home for several days.

Grace Rowley, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rowley, is convalescing satisfactorily from an illness.

Calvin Groves and Viola Gaston, two young musicians, played in a recital at Melrose Abbey Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Turner visited friends in Tustin Sunday.

Jack Gregory of the U. S. S. California, spent the weekend with friends.

The Kansas guests at the Ben Daniels home, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fulker and daughter, Lucille; Mrs. Parlee Bond and daughter, Zelma, spent Tuesday on a trip to San Diego.

YOSEMITE READY FOR SEASON

In preparation for the winter season, improvements are now being made in facilities both in Yosemite Valley and at Badger Pass, redecorating for skiers, reports the Outing department of the National Automobile Club.

At Badger Pass, the Ski House is being renovated while at Glacier Point, rooms of the Mountain House are being redecorated attractively for the reception of winter guests. The "upski" which takes skiers up the slopes is to have increased capacity with one-third more power so that it will accommodate 60 more people an hour.

Buick Has Many Refinements for 1938

Above is Betty Jane Brown, university drum majorette, heading Buick's 1938 parade. Some of the new refinements of the new model Buick are shown herewith. The refinements include coil spring, self-acting shift, economy piston, and other amazing features, according to Buick officials.

Davis Is Partner In Auto Concern

Louis Davis, who for the past year has been associated with the Baldwin automobile agency, has become an active partner in the business, it was announced by Henry A. Baldwin, head of the firm.

Davis has been a resident of Santa Ana for two years, coming here from Asheville, N. C.

LEAF SPRING ELIMINATED IN 1938 BUICK; MANY FEATURES ADDED FOR SATURDAY DISPLAY

The last heritage of the buggy—the leaf spring—is discarded by the 1938 Buick. The new models, formally presented tomorrow by the Reid Motor company, Buick dealer, complete the revolution of ride control begun when Buick introduced knee-action, officials declared.

"Introduction of coil springs in transmission automatically does its own shifting and adds a fourth speed. The new rear springs, it is explained by W. R. Gordon, manager, are exclusive in the new Buick and are made possible only by Buick's torque-tube and radius rod construction.

"The new Buick springs increase safety as well as riding comfort," Gordon added. "Tests at high speeds where tires were intentionally blown out on a front wheel showed that only a slight turn of the wheel was required to correct swerving tendency. In the case of rear tire blowouts no additional steering effort was required."

GARDEN GROVE SPEAKER GIVES NEW ESTIMATES

An increase in citrus production for next season was predicted in a talk presented by F. F. Heydenfeldt, manager of the Growers' Service bureau of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, at a meeting of the Garden Grove Farm center last night. Officers were elected by the center.

The 1937-38 crop of grapefruit was estimated at 1,755,000 boxes, where last year there were 1,550,000; navels, 14,750,000 boxes for the coming year and 13,500,000 the past season. The Valencia crop was estimated as 21,597,000 boxes, where last year the packed boxes totaled 16,829,000.

$3000 Yearly Income

There are 18,000 citrus growers in California and the 50 million dollars returned to the state after all expenses have been paid gives the grower with from 12 to 14 acres an income of about $3000 a year, he said. Out of last year's crop only six or seven hundred cars are left to ship for the balance of the season, he announced.

At the business session Walter Schmid was re-elected to serve as president; Ivan Harper, vice president; Frank Hildebrand, secretary-treasurer, and Andrew Smiley, director. A rising vote of thanks was given A. D. Sandoval, the retiring secretary, and the home department for its work during the past year. A. D. Smiley gave the county directors report.

State Convention
Frank Pierce announced the state convention to be held at Modesto November 14-18, and Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg announced the meeting of the home department at the clubhouse on Tuesday from 10 a. m. to noon, when Miss Frances Liles, home demonstration agent, will talk on cuts of meats. Ross Crane, assistant county farm advisor, reported on the trip of the 4-H club to the convention at Davis.

The program consisted of vocal selections by Miss Evelyn Rohde, accompanied at the piano by Miss Dorothy Barnes, who furnished piano solos.

SPANISH CLASS TO BE OPEN EVENINGS

An intermediate Spanish class has been arranged on the Santa Ana adult education program for those students who attended the beginning Spanish class last year, but who are not advanced enough for the Wednesday class, it was announced today by Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education.

The new class, she stated, will meet on Monday evenings at Willard evening school, in room 105, from 7 to 9 p. m. Stephen Reyes will be the instructor.

MOTOR TRANSIT LINES

In the City of TOMORROW—

you'll cross right under Main Street

predicts NORMAN BEL GEDDES, authority on Future Trends

"You won't have to wait for traffic lights to change when you want to cross Main Street in 1960," says Mr. Geddes. "Conveniently located underpasses will take you right across without a stop."

"Traffic going 10 blocks or more will speed along 50-mile-an-hour Express Streets connected by ramps with a network of Local Streets."

"These local streets will also be free from interference—from building-line to building-line. Open areas beneath buildings will provide parking space... loading platforms for trucks. Pedestrians will use elevated sidewalks—shop and cross streets at the second-story level."

...but TODAY, 4 miles in 5 are Stop and Go

NO MATTER WHERE YOU LIVE, you average 30 stops a day... and one stop can waste enough gasoline to drive you 5 city blocks!

That's why stop and go is costly!

While traffic authorities are planning "the City of Tomorrow," Shell engineers have developed a fuel, Super-Shell, to meet today's driving problem TODAY.

They have found a way to rearrange the chemical structure of gasoline... actually to balance it!

Automotive engineers use the term "motor-digestible" to describe Super-Shell, because at all motor speeds it is converted so QUICKLY, so COMPLETELY into power.

The regular use of Super-Shell will save money on your stop and go. There's a Shell dealer near you.

STUDIES OPEN FOR TEHACHAPI GROUP

Believed to be the first event of its kind in the United States, an all-electric cooking school was held recently at the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi under the sponsorship of the Southern California Edison company.

The two-day school, directed by Mrs. Ruth T. Erb, widely known home economist, and attended by fifty of the 175 women at the institution, was a unit in the rehabilitation program being carried out under the direction of Miss Florence Monahan, superintendent.

"Routine at Tehachapi is designed to assist in adjusting the delinquent woman to a more normal life," Miss Monahan said.

The institution's board of trustees is headed by Mrs. Rose Wallace of Alhambra. Other members include Mrs. Florence Gillis, Fresno; Mrs. Anna Lawes, Oakland; M. B. Brittain, Bakersfield; Lotus H. Loudon, Anaheim.

U. S. SEMI-PRO BALL PLAYERS TO ORGANIZE

PITTSBURGH—Organization of 7000 semi-professional baseball teams in the United States into one association, patterned after organized baseball, has been started by the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress. Honus Wagner, high commissioner, announced today.

League teams will be under contract, Wagner said, the players will not be permitted to jump from one league to another under the national system, unless released by their managers.

Violation of contract would outlaw a player in semi-pro circles, Wagner explained, and would make the player ineligible to compete with any member team of the national association.

The semi-pros will publish their own rules, Wagner announced. The rules will follow closely those prevailing in professional baseball, with only a few minor changes. Ernest C. Quigley, supervisor of umpires in the National league, will submit the rules for final adoption by the semi-pro congress.

M'MASTERS NAMED WRESTLING REFEREE

Because of the speed and science of the two principals in Monday night's three-fall main event at the Orange County Athletic club when Nick Luttrell meets Casey Colombo, Referee Mickey (Mouse) McMasters, speedily little 145 pound referee, has been named as the arbiter.

McMasters handled last week's card at the Highway 101 arena and in spite of his 145 pounds kept the rough-and-tumble La Verne Baxter in line.

McMasters' real trouble, however, may result when Count Otto Von Bussing of Germany tangles with the Nebraska Indian, Joe Tonit. They are down for a three-fall match also. Two one-fall bouts bring out Young Stecher vs. Pat McGill and Al Rosenbloom vs. Bob Stone.

LA VERNE TAKES ON UNDEFEATED AZTECS

La Verne college sends its football squad south Saturday in an attempt to stop the championship march of the powerful San Diego State Aztecs.

To date, the Staters have turned back Occidental and Whittier on successive Saturdays, and should have little trouble subduing the Leopards. However, La Verne's showing against Occidental last Friday was far from discouraging and football being what it is, Coach Henry Lloyd's charges may spring a surprise.

Tonight Redlands opens its conference season against Santa Barbara State on the Redlands turf. Both teams are big scoring threats. Redlands' attack features deception and tricky passes as compared to the powerful running offensive of the Gauchos.

Whittier is being invaded tonight by the Fresno State gridders for a non-conference tilt. The Poets have yet to win a ball game and "Chief" Wallace Newman is "shoot-ing the works" in an effort to show the residents of Quakerville a victory over the visitors from the valley.

Occidental, after three conference games, rests in preparation for a Homecoming Day game with the Redlands Bulldogs Oct. 23.

The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

NEW YORK—One All-America position already appears to be filled. It is that of coach. If his Cornell varsity doesn't accomplish anything else this season—and it is certain to stir up plenty of trouble all the way along the route—the All-America coach for 1937 should be Carl G. Snavely.

When Snavely switched from North Carolina to Cornell last fall, not too much was expected of him for some time. The once all-powerful Big Red had struck an all-time low under old Gil Doble—had been in the dumps for several campaigns.

Yet after only one season, in which he found his way around, Snavely has returned Cornell to telegraphic heights—has Ithacans singing as they sang in the glorious days of Chuck Barrett, Eddie Kaw, Sunny Sundstrum, and George Plann.

When the speedy Negro end, Brud Holland, ran wild against a good Colgate team in routing the Red Raiders by the amazing score of 40-7, the result was attributed to several things.

Colgate's employment of the old double wingback was listed as one reason.

ROUT OF COLGATE TIPOFF

"Don't be fooled by our Colgate score," explained Snavely. "Colgate expected a push-over, and was not prepared to do any pushing."

"When we did not go over, the Colgate team became demoralized and simply played the game for our side. I would hate to play Colgate again in November. I suspect that our opponents in the next few games will prove for us and for everybody that we have lots more weak points than we have strong points."

But if a Colgate array, with nine regulars of last season, numerous lettermen for the other two positions, and reserves, could do nothing with Cornell, nothing more could be expected of an inexperienced Princeton outfit with four sophomores in the line.

So Princeton fell before this rejuvenated Cornell team, 20-7, with the Big Red confining its pyrotechnics to the second half.

Once more the Cornellians were a happy revelation to thousands of the school's loyal alumni who saw their teams slaughtered by Princeton for three years hand running and who had waited seven years for a victory over the Tigers.

And so Syracuse, Yale, Columbia, Dartmouth, and Pennsylvania, which remain on the Cornell schedule, have tightened their belts in anticipation of headaches from an unexpected source.

SNARELY JUST STARTING

Snavely got a break at Cornell for three years ago the institution openly announced that star athletes were welcome and would be given assistance. They were asked only to meet the professors half way.

So with that understanding and Snavely, Cornell may be expected to remain on top or thereabouts for quite a spell.

A winning college coach has to be vastly more than a capable instructor in these years of high-pressure football. He has to be an organizer and a hustler, and in addition to having these qualities, Snavely is one of the best procurers of talent in the land. It is said that he keeps a card index of every promising preparatory school athlete in America, and keeps in touch with a great many of them.

Snavely, a native of Buffalo, learned his football the hard way—on the battlefields of western Pennsylvania. He played at Little Leavenworth Valley, and first established a coaching reputation at Bellfonte Academy.

A success for seven years at Bucknell, he gave the south a taste for his skill for two autumns at North Carolina, and then arrived for bigger performances at Cornell.

Nothing succeeds like hard work, and Carl G. Snavely is a worker from "way back."

MEMBERS OF SQUAD SHINE IN ALL SPORTS

By ROGER JOHNSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERKELEY—Football is only a hobby for most of University of California's Golden Bears—hot favorites to win the Pacific Coast conference title and play in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

The "Wonder Boys" from Berkeley possess such a variegated array of athletic talents that Coach "Stub" Allison thinks it's a miracle he was able to get his first string eleven to agree to play football all season, en masse.

The California team that knocked over St. Mary's 30-7, Oregon State 24-6 and Washington State 27-0 includes a prospective major league baseball rookie, a champion sprinter, a variety crewman, a first rate tennis player, a javelin thrower, an all-star rugger and the school's basketball captain.

Some experts have tagged the Bears a "super team" after watching their vicious blocking, hard tackling, deceptive but powerful line attack and effective pass offense.

California has beaten three normally tough teams on successive Saturdays by using the first string for one half, then throwing in all substitutes on the bench in the second half.

Thumbnail sketches of California's first eleven:

Bob Herwig, center—1936 All-America choice; co-captain of the basketball team and a good trackman, baseball player and swimmer; recognized team leader, he can throw a football 90 yards and virtually break up a backfield maneuver singlehandedly; he won 10 letters at Pomona high school.

Claude Evans, left guard—Regarded the hardest tackler on the squad; a cousin of Erny Pinkert, famed U. S. C. All-America halfback, he plans to be a football coach.

Vard Stockton, right guard—The most serious player on the squad. He holds an academic scholarship in mining engineering. With Evans he fills out one of the most formidable guard combinations seen on the Pacific Coast in recent seasons.

Dave De Varona, left tackle—A regular on the varsity crew. He finally was persuaded to play football because of his talent for aggressive line play and blocking ability.

William Stoll, right tackle—From Portland. He is the only out-of-state player on the team. He likes tennis better than football but you'd never guess it to see him open holes in enemy lines.

Willard Dolman, left end—In his own words, his chief fun in football is "knocking someone down." He holds an academic scholarship in California association here yesterday, defeating the Red Hills club of Pomona, 111-2 points to 1-2. Other teams in the league are Ha-clenda and Victoria. Santa Ana plays at Hacienda next Thursday.

The Mrs. Harry Bakre-Mrs. J. L. McFadden, Mrs. Paul Hall-Mrs. J. McVicar and Mrs. Hugh Shields-C. H. Chapman combination won three points each. Mrs. A. B. Watson and Mrs. Charles Doty took 21-2.

John Meek, quarterback—Barreled, chested, his forte is blocking and clearing a path for the ball carriers; in high school he played baseball and basketball; experts are boosting him for All-America selection.

Vic Bottari, left halfback—Main offensive threat of the team, he runs, kicks and passes with equal dexterity; he holds the California interscholastic record for the football throw at 232 feet; he is fast, quick to take advantage of the breaks and always a scoring threat.

"Mushy" Pollock, alternate left halfback, has run 100 yard dash in 9.5 seconds and was former national junior decathlon champion.

Sam Chapman, right halfback—Rated the best all-around player on the Pacific Coast. He is a sure

SAINT SOPHS TRIP CHAFFEY

Whatever the vicissitudes of the future, Santa Ana high school got off to a winning start in the Citrus Belt league when its sophomore football team defeated Chaffey, 13-0 at Ontario yesterday.

Coach Reece Greene's "Little Saints" scored two touchdowns in the last eight minutes of the fourth quarter.

Getting the ball on downs on Chaffey's 20-yard line when the Tigers failed to get away a fourth-down punt, Santa Ana bucked the ball to the one-yard line from where Fullback Bobbie Musick rammed it over.

A few minutes later, Center Shallenberger intercepted a desperate Chaffey pass on the Tigers' 30-yard line. Halfback Lester Harvey got away for a touchdown on the next play, crossing the goal standing up with Musick and Wooster running interference. Musick kicked the extra point.

Santa Ana met Redlands here next Thursday.

S. A. WOMEN TRIM RED HILLS GOLFERS

When golfers of the Santa Ana Country club breezed through their first inter-team series in the Eastern division of the Southern California association here yesterday, defeating the Red Hills club of Pomona, 111-2 points to 1-2. Other teams in the league are Ha-clenda and Victoria. Santa Ana plays at Hacienda next Thursday.

The Mrs. Harry Bakre-Mrs. J. L. McFadden, Mrs. Paul Hall-Mrs. J. McVicar and Mrs. Hugh Shields-C. H. Chapman combination won three points each. Mrs. A. B. Watson and Mrs. Charles Doty took 21-2.

Fresno State, Whittier Mix In Night Game

WHITTIER—Coach James (Rabbit) Bradshaw's powerful Fresno State eleven invade Hadley Field here tonight as the second opponent of the "suicide October" schedule for "Chief" Newman's Poets.

The Whittier eleven played San Diego State last week, meeting Fresno and then in succession tackled Willamette at Salem, Ore., and Santa Barbara State at Whittier.

To oppose the Poets record of three one-touchdown defeats in as many starts, the Bradshaw team has an impressive early slate. Fresno tied the U. S. C. Spartans 13-13, defeated Willamette 7-0 and walloped the California Ramblers 20-0. The invaders from the California have two impressive backs in Ken Gleason of Santa Cruz, 190-pound fullback, and Paul Heeb of Alhambra, flashy halfback.

Whittier played sterling defensive ball in losing its first conference engagement to San Diego last week 6-0. Starring in the play were Claxton, giant tackle, Capt. Bill Tufts, on the opposite side of the line, and Bill Patterson, blocking half.

Will Walls, an end who recently joined the New York Giants of the National Football league, was born to mutes and didn't speak a word until he was 8.

fire, deadly tackler; he throws a football like a baseball and his punts average about 60 yards; he led the intercollegiate baseball league in hitting two years ago with a .429 average. Major league scouts have tried to sign him.

Dave Anderson, fullback—A good javelin thrower and 440 yard dash man, he furnishes manpower to the backfield and blocks and tackles efficiently.

Co-Capt. Stanley Out Of Starting Lineup At San Bernardino

Football championships are not often won in October but Santa Ana junior college's Don football team can do much towards retaining its Eastern conference title tonight at San Bernardino by topping Doug Smythe's unbeaten—untied—unscored upon—Indian Braves.

Packing the wallop and color of a championship game, Dons and Indians start hostilities at 8 o'clock. Plans for handling a record crowd of between 4000 and 5000 fans are being made by San Bernardino authorities. A new set of bleachers large enough to accommodate 1500 was being installed today.

Both teams are undefeated to date, and have been made the ranking favorites for the division football crown.

Teams Rated Even
Comparative scores and pre-game dope lines up on the Indians' side of the ledger. However the rapid improvement of the Santa Anans in their last three games send the two pennant contenders away with an even break. Many Don supporters insist that the Bill Cook machine has just started to roll, that tonight's game again will see the "Red and Black" out in front by several touchdowns.

The Don coaching staff, close followers of Eastern conference tradition, look for a mighty close ball game from start to finish. And they have prepared their charges for what they hope to be every emergency.

Smart, stocky little Carl Lehnhardt (younger brother of Johnny Lehnhardt, the Dons' big gun last season) replaces Co-Captain Ed Stanley at halfback in the starting lineup. The former Garden Grove footballer is a veteran of Don football wars but tonight will be his first big chance to show what he can do under fire. He will take over the quarterbacking duties when Lehnhardt leaves the game. Coach Cook considers Lehnhardt the best on his squad when it comes to selection of plays.

Cook Stands Pat
The rest of the Don starting lineup will be the same as it was at Chaffey last Friday night: Co-Captain Erwin Youel and Ted DeVelbiss, ends; Bob Faul and "Rusty" Roquet, tackles; Joe Crawford and Dick Tauber, guards; Danny Boyd, center; Oliver McCarter, quarter; Beal and Lehnhardt, halves, and Les McLennan fullback.

Coach Doug Smythe is beginning his third year at San Bernardino. A Texas Tech man, Smythe, is well versed in the Warren single and double wing-back formations. His team this year also presents an uncrossed goal line in three practice victories over Glendale 13-0, Pasadena 20-0, and Long Beach 23-0.

Thirteen lettermen greeted Smythe in September along with a host of promising newcomers. The veteran backs are Cecil Lesher, Bill Matthie, triple-threat ace, Francis Penegal, Ben Sauserman, Bobby Templeton and George Watts. Ends: Bob Froude and Bert Kieck. Tackles: James Sims, a 200 pounder from their 1934 team, and Henry Robertson. Guards: Jack Haggard and Dick Morgan. Center: Bill Weaver.

Fresh Stars Plentiful
Promising freshmen stars are headed by Jimmy Verdieck, Captain of last year's Colton high eleven and starting center. He's a 175-pound scrapper. Avery Monfort, brilliant triple-threat from San Bernardino, is another starting back. Owen Walker, 210-pound tackle from Needles, jumps in ahead of the veteran Morgan. Bob Collins, 180-pound, six-four end from Freeport, Tex., an all-around prep man, will be another troublemaker. Boyd White of Colton, and Rudy Brozovich of Dawson, New Mexico are two other outstanding wingmen. Homer Doake, a four-year letter winner at Colton and a guard is regarded as on a par with Smythe's starters, Haggard and Robertson.

Among the other backfield newcomers are Bill Raduziner, 173-pounder with three years of high school experience at Wheelan, W. Va.; Jack Smith, 170, Needles; Ralph Murchison, Banning and all-Riverside County league back, and Art White of Paso Robles.

"Ching" Duham, Los Angeles, will referee tonight's game.

S. C. PITS POWER AGAINST OREGON PASSES

RATE WEBFEET STRONGEST IN

FOOTBALL TABLOIDS

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES—University of Southern California's Trojans will be without Phil Gaspar, first string tackle in tomorrow's conference game with Oregon. Gaspar is suffering from a cold in his neck. Ray George who sustained hip injuries during scrimmage, also may be out of the lineup.

LOS ANGELES—The Lions of Loyola today were ready for St. Mary's after a session behind closed gates in which the Lieb men fired passes in an effort to stop the Gaels with an aerial attack Sunday.

SEATTLE—Frank Peters, outstanding pass-receiver, will go into action for the first time this season in the game with Washington State at Pullman tomorrow. This was announced by Coach Jimmie Phelan just before 37 Huskies entrained for Pullman for their traditional battle of the "enemies." The Seattle squad was weakened with the loss of Al Craver, fullback, who suffered a leg injury and was not expected to play.

PULLMAN — The Washington State college gridders were confident of victory today as they greeted the invading forces from the University of Washington. Coach "Babe" Hollingsberry was more restrained, however, and continued to shift his defense forces around. Farman replaced Grimstead in tackle; Hubert went back as tackle, and Hoptowit, former guard, went to center to replace Rumburg.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—Elmer Kolberg, big fullback with Oregon State, was assigned today to keep track of Kenny Washington, U. C. L. A. halfback, when that team comes here for a game tomorrow. Coach Lon Stiner, who has a squad that upset Washington last week, is hopeful his previously poorly rated team will continue to surprise the dopesters.

PORTLAND — "Moose" Dunstan, tackle with the Portland University gridders, will leave with the rest of the squad for California despite protests of Santa Clara. Coach Matt Mathews said today. Santa Clara protested that Dunstan was ineligible because of the ruling which prohibited a player from varsity competition more than three years. Dunstan formerly played as a freshman at Santa Clara.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY — Bill Paulman, quarterback, who had been out of the Stanford lineup with an injured arm, was back in practice again today and it was virtually assured he would be back in the play for the next game.

FULLERTON PREPS OPEN LEAGUE RACE

FULLERTON — Fullerton high school's Indians open the 1937 football league season here tonight when they tangle with the strong Herbert Hoover eleven of Glendale.

Don Cruickshank, Indian mentor, places his hopes on the ball packing ability of Bill Goodchild, "Buzzy" Lovering and Art Pryor. Goodchild heads the heavy brigade while Lovering and Pryor ramble with the light brigade.

TRUCK TRIP TO START OCT. 18

First trip ever to be attempted by motor truck between Alaska and the United States will start October 18 from Ketchikan, Alaska, and end in New York City not later than October 30. A standard Dodge one and one-half ton loaded truck will be used on the trip, which is expected to be made in not more than 13 days, thus practically demonstrating long distance hauling under difficult conditions, as well as proving the closeness of Alaska to markets in Canada and the United States. This announcement was made today by Joseph D. Burke, director of truck sales for the Dodge division of Chrysler corporation, under whose direction this trip is being made. This truck will carry a capacity load of potatoes from the Matanuska district in Alaska, the agricultural colony there, and will be the first vegetables ever to be brought by truck from the land of the midnight sun to the land of the midday sun. Distance from Ketchikan to New York City is approximately 4,700 miles and the route will be via Wacker, Alaska; Port Simpson, Prince Rupert, Prince George and Vancouver, in British Columbia, and then through Seattle, Denver, Chicago, Harrisburg and other principal cities in the United States, with New York City as the terminus.

CALLING all DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

"THE CERTAINTY, NOT THE SEVERITY"

My grandmother was a wise old dame. To the best of my memory she never owned a dog. But she had this maxim for the disciplining of children: "The certainty of punishment means much more than its severity." In other words, if a youthful culprit could be made to understand that an absolutely sure penalty was to follow on his or her misdeeds, the knowledge would do far more to prevent such misdeeds than would the fear of a brutally severe punishment which might, with good luck, be dodged. It is so with your dog. It is infinitely better discipline and infinitely wiser in every way to let him learn that every kind of misbehavior will be followed at once by scolding or mild punishment than that he is going to get the skin whaled off him in the occasional event of detection. It will give him the idea that you are all-seeing and that justice is certain to follow immediately on the heels of his fault.

A light punishment, accompanied by a sharp reproof, at the moment of a misdeed, is worth fifty times as much as harsher treatment administered only at such rare times as the misdeed happens to be discovered. Let penalty follow instantly on the heels of a fault. Never at a later hour.

NEW JUICE PLANT MAY BE LOCATED IN COUNTY

AT LAST! THE MISSING LINK IS FOUND; LIVED IN AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(UP)—The discovery of an American "missing link" in an almost forgotten cave near Great Salt Lake was announced today by Dr. Julian H. Steward, Smithsonian Institute archeologist.

RETURNS FOR AVOCADO CROP AT HIGH MARK

Avocado growers of Orange and other counties have just completed their second largest and next most successful marketing season, and had it not been for the January freeze the past season's crop would have netted the largest total crop return ever registered by the industry, according to Manager George B. Hodgkin of the Calavo Growers of California.

Large Crop Returns
The 1937 avocado crop netted approximately 33 per cent of that of a year ago, despite the 25 per cent crop loss due to the freeze. The past season's crop also brought a greater total return than the record-sized crop of 1935.

A total of 655,215 flats, of 13 pounds each, of avocados of all grades and varieties, were packed and marketed co-operatively for the year ending last month, Hodgkin reports. In 1935, slightly over 1,000,000 flats were handled, while 544,000 were packed last year.

Members' Equity Jumps
Member equity in Calavo Growers of California has increased nearly three-fold in the past five years, jumping from approximate-

The primitive skeleton may be the oldest ever found on this continent, Steward said in a Smithsonian report. The remains were those of a youngster less than a year old whose body was buried in the gravel of the cave from 5000 to 12,000 years ago, he said.

The bones were so immature that even modern experts could not ascertain the sex of the baby.

Represents Culture
The skeleton is a true "missing link" in that it fills a blank in the history of America about which archeologists previously have always had to guess. It represents a culture between the basket makers, the last peoples of which science has a fairly complete picture, and the so-called Folsom men.

Folsom men, the oldest known Americans, are noted for their unique double chipped arrow heads. Despite a decade of the most vigorous searching, scientists have been unable to find any of their skeletons.

WEDDING PLANNED

Julene Meyer, 16, of Santa Ana, and Archie E. McGowen, 20, of Costa Mesa, have been issued a marriage license in San Diego.

ly $100,000, to nearly $300,000 today. During these five years the capital invested in fixed assets has remained practically stationary, resulting in the percentage of capital invested in fixed assets being reduced to but 47 per cent today.

A final dividend to apply on all avocados marketed during the past season is now anticipated, it is also reported.

Two Ace Show Entries

For the Santa Ana Dog Show, October 16 and 17, the two Great Danes in the gracious company of charming Edith Beatty, Beverly Hills, above, may furnish some of the "terrific" competition for the blue ribbon class. The Great Danes are in fine shape for the show, officials say.

BLUE BLOODS OF DOGDOM TO BE ENTERED IN COMPETITION AT ANNUAL SANTA ANA SHOW

Will the golden colored little cocker spaniel, Goldilocks Titonka, win the obedience test at the dog show Saturday and Sunday or will the international champion German shepherd, Katja Vom Blasenberg, obey every command of his master better than Goldilocks and capture the prize of the "smartest breed in California?"

Besides the above named dogs in this test there will be giant Newfoundland, weighing 180 pounds, a tiny five pound miniature pinscher and standard poodles.

This test is a new feature for western shows and has been attracting much attention for purebred dogs all through the east. The International Champion German Shepherd Katja Vom Blasenberg has won championships in five different countries, Holland, Germany, Austria, Canada and the United States. He was trained in obedience and police work in Germany in the German language so after coming to America, to American owners, he has had to learn his A B C all over. The obedience test is scheduled to take place Saturday evening about 7 o'clock.

Many Features

The grand "Parade of the Champions" is another feature of this big show, every dog will be a champion of note. Mrs. Jack Oakie of Hollywood has entered a fine Afghan hound which has recently arrived from Poona, India. It is expected that she or some screen celebrity will be here to hand out the trophies to the winning dogs in the finals.

Orange county entries are Mrs. James Irvine, Irish setter; Lucretia Pomeroy, cairn terriers; Lorraine Farrage, scotties; Mrs. Otto Kountz Jr., chow; Mrs. John Gowdy, collies; Mrs. Eldon McNeil, dachshunds; F. B. Blase, Mexican hairless; Mrs. Paul Van Sistine, Borzoi or Russian wolfhound; Jack Ball, cocker; Dan J. O'Neil, English bulldog; Clara Wyckoff, chow; Mrs. Frank Latham, collie; Mrs. T. J. Neal, Manchester terrier; Mrs. J. S. Flour and Mrs. Charles Randall, Boston terrier.

Time of Judging

From Orange are Dorothy Hawkins, Alaekian Spitz; Cecil J. A. Mailbach, chows. From Costa Mesa, H. C. Kiser, dalmations or coach dogs; Mrs. E. W. Thorp, pomeranians; Joseph Warlamont from Buena Park, great Danes; Mrs. E. W. Reed, Seal Beach, pekingese. Besides these entries have arrived from all over.

Judging starts Saturday at 1 p.m. all hounds and all toy breeds except pekingese; 3 p.m. all sporting dogs; 7 p.m. obedience test; 8 p.m. all non-sporting dogs. Sunday at 10 a.m. great Danes and pekingese; 12 noon all working dogs except great Danes; 3:30 p.m. all terriers; 7:30 all variety groups, best dog in show and the grand "Parade of the Champions."

Five prominent judges are slated to do the judging. A public address system has been installed so the spectators can follow the judging with no effort. The show is sponsored each year by the American Legion auxiliary and all profits will go for their work throughout the year. The show will be held in the National guard armory, 415 West Fourth street. Doors open 11 a.m. and close 11 p.m. each day.

Requirements of an American thoroughbred horse are that the pedigree contains 5 uncontaminated crosses. The average pedigree traces through 16 to 18 crosses, however, and some have as many as 25.

SUBSIDIARY IS ORGANIZED BY M. O. D. GROUP

With production and distribution of standardized quality canned citrus products authorized by directors of Mutual Orange Distributors this week, selection of sites for proposed plants is now under way.

Subsidiary Formed
The canned product will be handled through a subsidiary cooperative controlled by the M. O. D. One of the plants may be located in Orange county.

Under the plan approved, the membership in the subsidiary cooperative will, at their option, be open to all packing units which are members of the central marketing association. Capital and operating costs of the subsidiary cooperative will be borne by those packing units which voluntarily elect to become members of it.

Strait Tells Plan

J. H. Strait, president of Mutual Orange Distributors, said: "A careful analysis has been made jointly by the board of directors and a special committee of growers of the effect of production and sale of canned citrus products on the income of our growers. This report shows that there is a steadily increasing volume of citrus fruits being canned not only in California but in Arizona, Texas and Florida. The largest part of this volume so far has been manufactured and sold by commercial canners. Since there is no legal basis under the agricultural adjustment act either to limit the volume of citrus fruits being canned nor the price at which commercial operators purchase the raw material, the growers have lost control of the distribution to consumers of quite a substantial percentage of each year's production.

To Protect Income

"It is the conviction of many of our growers that they can protect their income on both fresh fruit and fruit usable for canning purposes as well as safeguard themselves against possible destructive effects of the unrestricted manufacture and distribution of canned citrus products by retaining control through Mutual Orange Distributors of all of the fruit they produce. Under the plan approved by the board of directors, all growers who desire to proceed on this basis will be in a position through Mutual Orange Distributors to achieve these ends."

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Smart Affair
Given By Duo
Of Hostesses

Although it was in the spring that Mrs. W. D. Ranney and Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth launched the party series concluded yesterday afternoon with a smart luncheon, the final event had that same freshness of charm which distinguished the earlier functions given by the hostesses duo.

Mrs. Ranney's home, 2321 North Park Boulevard, was scene of yesterday afternoon's hospitality. Zinnias in the brightest of autumn hues added to the inviting setting arranged for the occasion. Among those who were in flowers were Mesdames J. E. Liebig, Anna Richards, C. P. Boyer, E. B. Sprague and Adam Zaiser.

Mrs. Farnsworth's sister, Miss Mary Thompson, assisted the two hostesses in receiving and in other duties. In addition to assistance throughout the afternoon, Mrs. Ranney's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Ranney, and Mrs. Crawford Nalle were responsible for much of the charming decorative effect. Representing Mrs. Nalle's handiwork were the hand-painted place cards of Oriental motif. They furthered a theme suggested in luncheon table centerpieces of quaint Chinese figures at the base of which were clusters of rose, yellow and white chrysanthemums.

It seemed especially appropriate that Mrs. Clarence Ranney and Mrs. Nalle should aid with the plans, since they were to be hostesses this afternoon at a party in the W. D. Ranney home.

Following luncheon yesterday, contract bridge play was introduced. Winners at each of ten tables of cards were rewarded with double decks of cards.

Invited to share the affair with Mrs. Ranney and Mrs. Farnsworth were Mesdames C. P. Boyer, Adam Zaiser, E. E. Winslow, Leonard Swales, H. B. Van Dine, C. V. Davis, Mark Lacy, Ray Chandler, Howard Timmons, George Briggs, Marguerite Borgmeyer, Sara Johnston Haddon, John Bower, A. J. Lasby, J. F. Burke, George Munro, A. A. Jones, I. F. Landis, Robert G. Majority Degree Given
Job's Daughters

Wednesday night's meeting of Job's Daughters in Masonic temple, was a special occasion when various members of the organization were accorded their majority degree, the second event of its kind in the history of Santa Ana branch.

Miss Mary Crowe, honored queen, conducted this ceremony, in which the degrees were conferred on the Misses Fern Anderson, Dorothy Carlson, Charlotte McCausland, Nadine Pennington, Mildred Pearson, Lenore McFarren, Clarice Miller, Lorraine Wheeler, Phyllis Hefke, Genevieve Nielsen, Ruth Olson, Dorothy Morgan, Letitia Morgan, Fern Willis, Evelyn Sheppard and Virginia Stewart.

Events of the near future whose announcements were met with much interest included a picnic for Job's Daughters and their families next Sunday at the Daughters' cabin at Forest Home. At the next meeting on October 27 candidates will be received for initiation. A refreshments committee was named to include the Misses Nancy Neer, Patricia Swarthout and Marjorie Wall, with decorations to be in charge of the Misses Marian Borchard, Winola Barrett and Naomi Knipe.

Following these various features the Daughters sought the dining room where Columbus Day was celebrated with patriotic decorations. The refreshments course was planned and served under direction of the Misses Maxine Campbell, Natalie Ely, Bethel Haven and Gertrude Knox.

If cream refuses to "whip," add just a squeeze of lemon juice, continue whipping, and it will soon become the right consistency. Another way which slightly increases the quantity of your whipped cream is to beat the white of an egg until very stiff, fold into the cream, and whip until heavy.

Coreopsis Members
Celebrate Birthdays

Birthday anniversaries of Mesdames John Dougherty, Howard Eggington and Maud Hubbard were given a pleasant celebration Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of Coreopsis club in the home of Mrs. John F. Pieper, D Street, Tustin.

Mrs. Pieper served birthday cake and ice cream as the second course of inviting refreshments. She was assisted by her daughter, Miss Audrey Pieper, and by Mrs. Wasson Doughty. There were pretty gifts for the three natal day celebrants.

Present were Mesdames Sarah Mathews, Maud Hubbard, Molly Smith, W. F. O'Harrow, D. M. Forney, F. C. Silver, A. A. Alderman, John Doughty, George Furtch, Nannie Myers, J. C. Rogers, Howard Eggington, E. C. Kuhl, Miss Ethel Alderman, and the hostess, all members, with Mrs. Vivian Barnum, Mrs. W. H. Elderman and Mrs. Wasson Doughty, guests.

Mrs. Mathews will be hostess to the club Wednesday, November 10.

Three Sections Hold
Sewing Meetings

Northeast, Northwest and Southwest sections of First Congregational Women's Aid society spent Wednesday afternoon sewing, with homes of two members opened for the meetings.

Northeast group, entertained the Northwest members in the home of Mrs. Jennie Peek, 525 Wellington avenue, where Mrs. Etta D. Sweet was co-hostess with Mrs. Peek. Electio, of Mrs. Lenna Hamilton as new leader of Northeast section took place during the afternoon.

In addition to needlework, folding of seals for the tuberculosis association occupied the 25 members part of the time. Light refreshments were served, with marigolds and rust-hued chrysanthemums adding to the pretty setting.

Southwest section members were guests in the home of Miss Minnie Hasty, 1313 West Fourth street. Mrs. C. F. Crose contributed a series of articles to the program. Refreshments were served at the close of a session of sewing which was shared by 15 members.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. W. L. Davis, 424 South Parton street.

Three Girls Pledged To Sigma Theta

The Misses Julianne Wolven, Madeline Paxton and Virginia Hardin were pledged to Sigma Theta, sorority Wednesday evening during a meeting at which Mrs. George Preble and Miss Loretta Spangler were hostesses in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Plumb, Main street, Tustin.

Miss Valerie Demetriou, president, conducted a short business meeting, at the close of which refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Present were Mesdames Robert Edward, Joseph Irwin Don Plumb, George Bradley and the Misses Valerie Demetriou, Joan Baker, Ruth Baker, Betty Campbell, Dorothy Gowdy, Lois Murray, Dorothy Van Deusen, Roberta McKnight and the two hostesses; with the Misses Wolven, Paxton and Hardin.

On the island of Hawaii where she served as an exchange teacher, she found truly a "Garden Isle" with virtually no barren ground, and innumerable beauty spots impossible to reach by any means except by riding horseback.

Her particular classes numbered but two native Hawaiians and one white pupil, the others representing Japanese, Korean, Chinese and Portuguese families.

She described the "Bon Season," dedicated to the memories of those who died during the preceding year, with greenish-hued lanterns sent their families in sympathy, and special temple rites observed. She told also of native luau, including one given by the Hawaiian club of the Hilo Y. W., distinguished by its ti leaf decorations, coconut shell vases, and other quaint details. Her manner in surmounting the difficulties of the Oriental names, her living arrangements, a "plane trip to Hawaii, and various unusual experiences, kept her audience fascinated throughout her interesting talk.

University Women Share
Dinner And Fine Program

Presenting Miss Ruth Rowland as their guest speaker, members of Orange county branch, A.A.U.W., assembled in numbers last night in the Y.W.C.A. clubrooms, together with various guests to enjoy an enthralling program as a sequel to the dinner hour, itself distinguished by unusual charm.

To their guest speaker, the University of Women had presented a lot of pink carnations, which proved quite effective with the graceful blue gown she wore. In her honor, too, Miss Lillian Dickson, chairman of dinner plans, had arranged table decorations on a tropical theme. Miniature palm trees, their trunks formed of large corks, waved convincing plumage above quaintly formal little flower beds, which upon examination, proved to be single zinnia heads, spaced formally in garden design.

Serving was accomplished by Junior college Y. W. C. A. members. Seventy-three reservations had been made for the dinner, showing the interest in both the hostess organization and the evening's program.

Miss Mabel Whiting, branch president, introduced the business session by pointing out that the next meeting will fall on Armistice Day. It was decided to let the date stand. Announcement was made also of the regional conference to be held October 23 in Glendale.

Mrs. Horace Scott, fellowship chairman, made the gratifying statement that South Pacific section, of which the Orange county branch is member, was the first to raise the $300.00 fellowship fund, called the Aurelia Henry Reinhardt fund in compliment to the noted president of Mills college. This may be applied now on alternate years, to aid any member of the International association, in plans for study and research in countries foreign to her own. When it reaches $45,000 it may be applied annually.

Orange county branch plans to form its donation by disposing of the remainder of the Jean Goodwin historical maps of the county at a reduced price, and also by the sale of 100 pounds of Chinese tea for which contract has been made.

After Mrs. Oletha Scott told of the Halloween party to be staged on Wednesday night, October 20, in the Y. W. for the Recent Graduates group of which she is chairman, Miss Whiting spoke of the Oberlin College centenary now in progress, celebrating the opening of universities to women students. Herself an Oberlin alumna, she cited the fact that her college was the first in the country to become co-educational.

Program plans were in charge of Miss Mabel McFadden, who introduced Miss Anna Mae Archer, cellist and her accompanist, Miss Audrey Pieper. Two beautiful numbers were played, including "A Romance" by Fischer.

Miss Rowland, in the principal programmed event, told of her impressions of the Hawaiian Islands from the moment of her landing, describing the color, fragrance and air of restfulness and cheerfulness by which they are distinguished.

On the island of Hawaii where she served as an exchange teacher, she found truly a "Garden Isle" with virtually no barren ground, and innumerable beauty spots impossible to reach by any means except by riding horseback. Miss Frances Iams
Gives Dance Program

Giving a dance recital Wednesday evening in the Y. W. rooms, Miss Frances Iams of this city, well known Southland dancer, presented a brilliant program augmented by violin solos by Maria Ford and vocal numbers by Norma Dana.

The program occurred on the eve of the opening of Miss Iams' studio at 420 West Fourth street, where she will give instruction in Spanish, Mexican and gypsy dances, as well as ballroom dancing.

Dances peculiar to different provinces in Spain and in Mexico were presented by Miss Iams, whose opening feature was "Gitaneas," enhanced by the click-click of castanets. An appropriate violin selection was played by Miss Ford. A tango, "Yo Con Tu Amor," was the second dance, with Miss Dana singing "La Violatera." She sang a Gypsy song after Miss Iams' Gypsy numbers, "Zambra Gitana," and "Garrocin."

While the danseuse presented a Mexican group, Chaperoneas and "Coconito," Miss Dana sang, and later Miss Ford played solos. Peasant dances, "Jota Navarra" and "La Cucaracha" and a concert dance, "Malagueña," brought the program to a close. Josephine Chapman was at the piano.

Miss Iams has given programs for various Southland groups, including the Friday Morning club and Los Angeles Federated Women's club. She has appeared at Ambassador Hotel, Biltmore Bowl, Redlands Bowl and Huntington hotel, and has taken part in San Gabriel Fiesta.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
PRISCILLA PIERCE—heroine, young woman attorney.
AMY KERR—Cilly's roommate and murderer's victim.
JIM KERRIGAN—Cilly's fiancé.
HARRY HUTCHINS—Amy's strange visitor.
SERGEANT DOLAN—officer assigned to solve the murder of Amy Kerr.

Yesterday: The case against Kerrigan suddenly crumbles when they took him to the airport Sunday night at the time of the murder. So Dolan and Cilly agree to work "together" on the case henceforth.

CHAPTER XXVII

CILLY went into the bedroom and picked up the little gadget for which she had searched through her bureau drawer. It was a small dressmaker's awl, used years ago by her mother for marking out patterns. All along it had been a perfectly useless thing; Cilly kept it only against the possibility that it might come in handy sometime. This was the time.

The little gadget not only marked off patterns very nicely, but a long time ago Cilly had found that it cut glass without any effort and without any crash or splintering. It was going to serve that purpose now, for Cilly was going homebreaking. She was going to solve the mystery of Mrs. Elliot and the vacant apartment above her.

She wrapped herself in her dark raincoat, then pulled the water-proof hat down over her hair. The dressmaker's gadget she slipped into her pocket, then turning out the light in her bedroom, she quietly opened the window and let herself out the fire escape. She closed the window behind her, to keep the rain out of her own room, but she very carefully left it up from the bottom about one inch. That was room enough to slip her fingers underneath and open it again from the outside, should she come back by way of the fire escape.

The flimsy iron framework shook as she put her full weight on it, and for one terrible instant she feared that it would not hold her. But apparently it was strong enough. Slowly, step by step, she climbed to the floor above, carefully feeling her way lest she slip on the wet metal. Eight steps took her halfway up, then she turned on the small platform to ascend the second half of the flight. It was like walking on greased glass.

SHE hesitated a moment as she finally reached the window of Mrs. Elliot's bedroom, and tried to pierce the gloom within the room. True, there might be a murderer hiding in there, under the bed, or in the clothes closet at the side. But Cilly did not think so now. Fearlessly she peered through the window only to get a glimpse of the room's layout. Then she took the dressmaker's tool out of her pocket.

Very carefully she cut a semicircle in the pane of glass directly above the window's catch—just enough so that she could slip her fingers through and unlatch the window. Some day, she thought with a smile, she would confess to Mr. Johnson and offer to pay for the broken window pane.

The small semicircle of glass fell to the floor within the room and splintered with a resounding crash. But it could not have been heard anywhere except in the apartment below, and that was her own. Cilly unlocked the window and raised it slowly. An instant later, she slid over the sill, careful not to tread on the broken glass at her feet.

She wished she had brought a flashlight, but she did not own one. She looked carefully at the window shade. . . . Good! It was as she had hoped. The windows were equipped with two sets of shades, light and dark, for this apartment faced the south and the sun shone in brightly all day. She pulled down both sets of shades; now she could turn on the light with little fear of being seen from the outside.

In the full glare of the overhead fixture, the room looked bare and cold. It lacked the cozy homeliness one usually associates with old ladies' rooms. There were no magazines on the end table, no intimate snapshots of nieces or nephews or grandchildren, no snugly cushions. . . .

CILLY started on the chest of drawers. One after another she opened each drawer, and her eyes widened in amazement. They were entirely empty! There was not even newspaper covering on the bottom. Had Mrs. Elliot moved out completely, bag and baggage, as had Mrs. Wheeler?

Next she looked into the clothes closet. Would this too be empty? But no, there were clothes here. Typical old ladies' clothes. A black silk dress, of no particular style. A plain cloth coat, of a slightly rusty black. A muslin slip, hung on a wall bracket. Black oxfords, very large black oxfords, looking not unlike a pair of man's dress shoes, lay on the floor.

Cilly looked again. Surely there must be something else. . . . this was only one complete outfit. Did Mrs. Elliot have no other clothes? And where were her underthings, her house dresses? She opened the door wider, to see deeper into the closet. . . .

Here was something! Another coat it appeared. Cilly brought it out to the light. Why, it was a man's coat! A man's topcoat! Cilly felt suddenly panic-stricken. Here was the solution to the mystery. Here in Mrs. Elliot's apartment. This was where a man had been hiding out. . . . and Mrs. Elliot must have known him, else he would not have the temerity to hang his topcoat in her closet.

Mrs. Elliot knew who the murderer was. That was why she was remaining in Connecticut, until all the excitement had died down. . . .

IN the instant of that realization Cilly froze with terror. Where was the man now? How soon would it be until he returned and found here there? Perhaps any minute now, she would see him. She would be face to face with the murderer of Amy Kerr. And she would be just as helpless as Amy had been up there on the roof. . . .

If she waited long enough, she would discover him. But what good would it do her, if she never lived to accuse him? Quickly she put the topcoat back into the closet. Her hands shook violently. She knew only one thing: that she wanted to get out of this apartment and downstairs as fast as ever she could. She did not dare go out into the other rooms to search for more clues. She would call Sergeant Dolan immediately and let him do that. . . .

Somewhere a board creaked suddenly. Cilly spun around and stared out into the darkness that was the living room beyond. She could see nothing. She stood still for one dreadful moment. She must go over to the doorway and switch off the light, yet she hesitated. For some reason she didn't want to be left in that dark bedroom to find her way back to the fire escape.

And even as she thought this, her eyes widened in horror. She tried to scream, yet the very breath choked in her throat. For a man's hand—a large, powerful hand—reached in from the living room and turned off the light instead.

The next instant, she felt that hand around her throat, and she was dimly conscious of the odor of damp towels. . . .

JIMMIE FIDLER IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 15.—About five minutes before my radio broadcast last Friday night, I received a mysterious telephone call—a tip-off that Greta Garbo had just committed suicide. A quick check-up revealed that the report was untrue—as untrue as the other umpteenth telephone calls that I have had in the past few weeks, announcing Hollywood tragedies. Two weeks ago, some hysterical woman called to tell me that William Powell had died suddenly on the set. A man's voice informed me the other day that Bette Davis was dying by sunstroke. When Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond sailed for Honolulu, some excitable person who refused to give his name telephoned to report that they had quarreled and that Gene had jumped overboard and drowned.

Hollywood police tell me that after the death of any great star—in this case, Jean Harlow—there is always an epidemic of such telephone calls. In several cases they have traced the calls, questioned their authors and invariably found them to be mentally unbalanced neurotics who seem to derive a ghastly glee from causing fear and sorrow. The worst offender on their records terrorized Hollywood for weeks by calling, not the press, but the relatives of the star to report the fictitious tragedy.

On one or two occasions the wild rumors have made the headlines. Wallace Beery, for instance, had the experience of picking up a newspaper and seeing in giant type the story of his own death in an airplane crash. He tells me that it gave him a very strange feeling. My own "strange feeling" is just plain rage.

On the set the other day with Jack Holt when he staged a knock-down and drag-out fight with the villain of the picture, Jack La Rue—the "whistle looking chap" who made his first great screen hit as the priest in "Farewell to Arms." There was nothing aesthetic about La Rue's brand of rough-and-tumble fighting. Jack Holt finished the scene with two broken ribs. La Rue, plenty worried, helped him to his feet and asked anxiously if he were badly hurt. Jack gingerly felt his injured side. "You know, you were a great success as a peaceful priest," he said, between groans. "What a pity you didn't stick to that characterization."

Meet Ray Milland, clever fellow! A few days ago, on the set, the director ordered him to play a scene in a deluge of rain. Ray objected—he had on a new suit; who would pay for it? After a few moments of heated argument, the director lost patience and sent his assistant on the run to the business office to get Ray a studio check for the full price of the togs. And with the check in hand, Ray blissfully walked into the artificial down-pour and played the scene.

Today I met him on the Boulevard, wearing the same old suit. It had been pressed and it looked as good as new. "You ought to see the knockout I bought with that check I high-jacked out of Paramount," he grinned.

This afternoon, I watched Joy Hodges play her first big dramatic scene. It required such a nicely shaded bit of emotional acting that a veteran actress would have been nervous; Joy, not yet a veteran, was paralyzed with fear. The director tried to soothe her nerves, talked patiently to her and shot take after take. It looked like disaster—Joy went through it like a condemned man climbing the thirteen fatal steps. Finally, just as the director was ready to give up hope, a messenger boy brought a telegram for "Miss Hodges." Joy read it and—suddenly—the tears that had refused to flow streamed down her cheeks. "Let's make another take," she said quietly—and played the scene magnificently. The wire was from her best friend, Irene Hervey. It read: "Go ahead, Joy, you can do it!"

It is common practice to shoot alternative endings for most pictures—the all time record being established when the producer of "Another Dawn" shot six different endings before making up his mind which would please Mr. and Mrs. Public. Jack Oakie says he should have shot one more and retitled the picture "Another Week." Copyright, 1937, McNaught Syn., Inc.

Set Dates For
W.R.C. Bazaar

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 15.—At the meeting of the W. R. C. held in Legion Hall Tuesday evening, it was decided to hold the Fall bazaar November 12 and 13 in the old furniture store building on North Euclid avenue. In addition to the sale of home made articles there will be a rummage sale, booth of cooked foods and fish pond.

In order to finish articles for the bazaar members will meet to sew all day October 19 at the home of the Misses Catherine and Helen Class on North Euclid avenue. A pot luck luncheon will be served at noon.

The public is invited to attend a card party at Legion hall on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded in games of bridge and "500" and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Mary Clark, chairman of the welfare committee, reported $49.55 had been used for relief work during the past month. Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served by Mrs. Ruth Bennett and Mrs. Nellie Beavers. Visitors were Mrs. Gladys McDonald, Mrs. Minnie Squires, of Orange; and Mrs. Clara Ray, of Anaheim.

SANTIAGO CANYON HOME IS HUMMING BIRDS' SANCTUARY; WATER AND FOOD PROVIDED

BY MRS. J. E. PLEASANTS

Away up Santiago canyon beyond the old Modjeska home, where the canyon again widens a little, is situated the comfortable mountain cabin of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Tucker, of Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker are friends to all living creatures, but their special friends are the humming birds.

They are kind to all the team—good friends, and this is how it came about.

Some 10 years ago the Tuckers, seeing the humming birds feeding on the red flowers growing near their cabin, conceived the idea of taming them by providing them with food. The humming bird is naturally a fearless little fellow, so the task was an easy one. All you have to do is to get him started. Bird students all know that red is a favorite color with the hummers, probably because very many flowers that provide them with food are of that color.

The Tuckers tried a few experiments along this line, coaxing the birds along by putting out honey or a weak syrup of sugar and water, the container being decorated with a red covering.

Honey Used as Bait

Some wise bird took the hint and must have carried the good news to his sisters, his cousins and his aunts; for soon the little sprites were coming in such numbers that another dish of sweets had to be provided. They say honey is the best bait to start with, as it is made by the bee from the nectar of flowers on which the hummer himself feeds. With his long bill he is able to drink from many a deep-throated blossom immune to the bee because its tongue is too short to reach its nectar.

Mr. Tucker began by using test tubes as containers for the sweets for his guests, but his banquet hall soon became so popular that he went to the glass factory and had larger containers made, now, the gallon-size like the water jars are needed, and many of them. The bees soon learned where to find a ready-made feast and finding so many drowned bees in the drinking fountains, he was obliged to cover them with perforated metal tops. The humming birds soon learned the new trick, and insert their bills in the little holes which are too small to admit the bee.

These tops are made of nickel to prevent rust. The feeders are always kept full, on the same principle as a poultry drinking fountain.

They come every year in increasing numbers, as the young, reared here, come back to the land of their birth to raise their families, and the migrants, passing through, come for breakfast. The rush hours are early in the morning and from near sunset until dusk, when they seem to be especially hungry, and crowd the banquet board by the hundreds. Mrs. Tucker counted 300 at one time from her veranda and has observed six different species.

We have eight species known to visit the state. Our common resident, the Anna hummer, named for the Duchess of Rivoli, is larger for a hummer. This species and the Costa both nest here and are known to decorate their tiny nests, constructed of plant down strengthened by cobweb, with the green lichen, which they gather from the live oaks.

This is done for protective coloring, but makes a very beautiful cradle in which to lay their two tiny eggs, and cradle their two babies, which at first resemble a couple of bumble bees more than birds. Mr. Anna has a wonderful gorget and ruff of a rosy pink with bronze-green lights, while Mr. Costa sports a like head gear, of brilliant amethyst, violet, changing to blue green.

A naturalist, Dr. Fisher, reports seeing this species feeding on the nectar of plants in the moonlight. The black-chinned, whose general color is iridescent green, has a gorget of black edged with violet.

The Allen and rufous hummers have gorgets of flaming coppery red with tails and flanks of a reddish brown. They are so alike that they are very hard to distinguish. There are two migrants, passing through to their nesting ground farther north. They pass through our canyons at the time our brilliant fuchsia-flowered gooseberry is in bloom and its crimson-scarlet blossoms provide a feast for these migrants whose bright colors can scarcely be distinguished from the gay flowers on which they are feeding when a number of them are fluttering over the bushes.

Mountain Species

The Calliope hummer, our tiniest feathered creature, wears a gorget of rose-purple, the bases of the feathers, being white, give a streaked appearance. It is a mountain-loving species, and we probably only see it as it passes through going on to its nesting ground in the high mountains.

When seen here it can be distinguished by its very small size, and reddish brown coloring on the under parts. If one is studying birds in the high mountains in the summer time at an altitude of from four to eight thousand feet, look for its nest cunningly placed against a dead pine cone on a tree near a meadow.

The nest is usually made of willow down and decorated with small particles of willow bark as a protective coloring. Calliope has to travel all the way back to Mexico, to find suitable winter quarters, so probably passes a little time with us in the autumn.

Gorgeous Hues

Dr. Elliot Coues in his "Birds of North America" has this to say of the glittering iridescent tints of the humming birds:

"They have the most gorgeously brilliant metallic hues known among created things."

Humming birds are only native to America and are found ranging from Alaska to Patagonia. However, there is only one species native to the Eastern States. Dr. Coues lists 15 north of Mexico for the west.

The Audubon society gladly accepts an annual invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Tucker to this beautiful sanctuary to spend a day in bird study, and perhaps as great a number of the birds of Southern California can be found in the Santiago canyon as in any other section.

The English sparrow has not yet invaded this territory to crowd out other more timid species. The long range of foot-hills as an approach to the mountains gives a cross section of valley, foot hill and mountain dwellers, among the feathered population, which is very satisfying to the student. The most loved of all our song birds extends his range well up into the lower open valley of the canyon and the cheerful meadow lark trails along almost as far.

Roadrunner Wise

The California thrasher, whose song is only second to the mocker, is abundant from valley to where the mountains begin to be rugged. The valley quail and the more brilliant mountain species overlap each other's range about where the higher foot hills and mountains meet and our old friend, the roadrunner, goes most of the way, though he is too wise to race with the automobile the way he used to race with teams. Both species of orioles and the black-headed grosbeak make the canyon cheerful throughout the spring nesting season with their musical whistling calls and the two species of bluebirds and the robins with the cheery Gambel sparrow and the Audubon warbler make glad the winter months.

These and hundreds of others intrigue the bird student the whole year through, but at Mr. Tucker's

DIETING?

Balance your diet with Vegeroni, the vegetable macaroni. A revolutionary idea in food — made with 10 garden vegetables to provide vitamins A, B, C, E and G as well as minerals and proteins that balance the starch content. Vegeroni brings you real flavor, wholesomeness and convenience. Try Vegeroni in this family-tested recipe!

VEGERONI ITALIENNE

- 1 16-oz. (large) package Vegeroni, cooked in 4 cups boiling salted water 8 minutes.
- Drain (save water); arrange on platter and cover with this sauce:
- 6 tablespoons Olive Oil
- 1 medium size finely chopped onion
- 1/2 cup dried mushrooms soaked in 1 cup Vegeroni water for 15 minutes and chopped
- 1/2 lb. ground, browned beef or cooked chicken livers if desired
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 small cans tomato sauce
- Pepper and salt to taste
- Few drops Worcestershire sauce
- 1 cup grated cheese

Brown onion in olive oil; add chopped, soaked mushrooms, beef or chicken livers if desired, and the butter. Let simmer 2 minutes. Add tomato sauce and seasonings. Pour over cooked Vegeroni and top with grated cheese.

the hummer is crowned king, and for one who has been fortunate to have been a guest at the hospitable cabin at eventide, the reason is not far to seek, for it is an introduction to a world apart. The purple mountains, towering on either side, are sunset flushed; the murmuring undercurrent of the stream, the many-colored tints of hundreds of these iridescent little creatures in vibrant motion make an ever-moving rainbow which, accompanied by the incessant buzzing of their tireless wings, seems like some unreal scene from Fairyland.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Clara McKee of Eagle Rock, former Westminister resident, who has been in the east and in Europe since last April is visiting in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Grandy. Mrs. McKee was accompanied here by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McKee, of Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rippetoe, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rippetoe, of this place, and Miss Carol Funkhouser, of Los Angeles, have returned from a trip of some weeks duration to their former home in Morristown, Tenn.

Frank Lerch, of Burbank, brother of Mrs. Burt Ostot, was a recent visitor in the Ostot home and other visitors on Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. George Young, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hertze, of Santa Ana. H. H. Holloway, who underwent a major operation at St. Joseph hospital, is reported as convalescing satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hall visited in Wilmington Sunday, with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Drake, of New Westminster, entertained as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson and Miss Janet Smith, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Slothower and daughter, Miss Margaret Slothower, of Norwalk.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Edwards were hosts Sunday to Mr. Edwards' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Day and members of their family, the Misses Phyllis, Shirley and Julia Day and John Day.

New Tomato Juice Takes Country by Storm

If you think all tomato juice is alike, Welch's new vitamin-protected tomato juice. If you don't, exclaim it's the best you've ever tasted, we will give you double your money back.

The reason Welch's is far richer in flavor and food value is simply this, Welch's grows their own quality tomato plants at their factory, where the finest table tomatoes are grown. When these tomatoes are deliciously table ripe, they are picked, pressed into juice, and bottled the same day. The skin, core and seeds are removed. And no sugar is added.

A noted chemist tested five brands and found Welch's Tomato Juice superior, larger vitamin C content; as much vitamin A as milk, and rich in vitamin B.

Welch's is so rich and thick, you can add 1/2 water or ice and still have the most delicious tomato juice you've ever tasted. Get Welch's Tomato Juice from your dealer today. It's pure, pasteurized, laboratory controlled and Good Housekeeping approved. Your first sip will make you exclaim "This is the finest tomato juice I've ever had!" Insist upon the genuine Welch Tomato Juice.

You'll step high and feel high in spirits, when you give yourself the stamina you need by drinking a full quart of body building, figure-keeping milk each day.

LOCAL DOCTOR WINS IN TALKS

Dr. Merrill Hollingsworth took first place, William Fernandez second at El Camino Toastmasters club last night when Glenn Tidball was toastmaster of the evening, taking the place of Jack Bascom. The club tried the innovation of having a general critique appoint individual critics, criticism being of different phases of the talks, each critic commenting on each speaker. Ernest S. Wooster was general critic, others being Ted Blanding, Duane Armstrong, Richard Farnsworth, Dr. C. J. Ruley, Robert Hockaday and E. M. Sundquist. Hockaday will be chief critic next week.

Speakers and Guests
Speakers introduced by Tidball were Philip N. Hood in a discussion of propaganda. Councilman Ernest H. Layton, in a shop talk, told of council problems and procedure. Dr. Hollingsworth, his topic "The Oriental Situation" told of the methods used by the Chinese in their defense. A. O. Hatfield outlined events in the early history of Orange county, touching on the founding of Tustin and Santa Ana. Giving his second talk before the club, John Maxwell told of the development of a transportation system. Fernandez related facts concerning the method of tracing words in the education of pupils unable to learn in the ordinary way.

Guests of the club were David Cherry, D. H. Tibbals, president and secretary respectively of Smedley Toastmasters club and Dan Brown of the club. Leon Landerbach was also a guest.

BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, Oct. 15.—"The Lost Day" will be the topic of the morning service Sunday at the Congregational church. In the evening the minister, the Rev. F. Stanley Powles, will preach on "Come On, Let's Go." Rally Day exercises will be held in the morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Booth and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Meyer returned Thursday from a short vacation trip to Boulder Dam.

Miss Margaret Boyd, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stowe of National City were guests this week of Mrs. Stowe's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Horn.

New officers of the Junior Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church are Olive Watson, president; Coy Lee Austin, vice-president; reporter, Carol Welch, secretary and look out chairman; Shirley Hillman, treasurer; Thelma Austin, missionary chairman; Barbara Dukes, prayer meeting superintendent, and Paul Watson, social chairman.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Oct. 15.—Capt. Albert N. Park Jr. was a dinner guest Tuesday evening in the home of Col. and Mrs. Edmund Zane.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Callis, Miss Katharine Spicer, June Arnold, Santa Ana; Arthur Flint, of San Pedro, and Lockwood Miller, of Los Angeles, joined in celebrating the birthdays of Mrs. Callis and Miss Spicer with a dinner party at the Wilshire bowl recently.

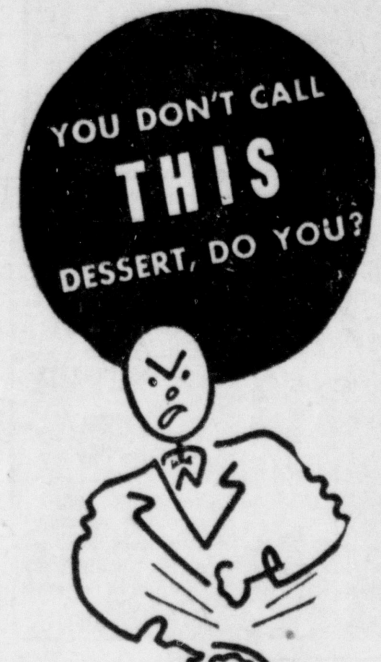

Sunday night supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Parker were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kikhorst, of Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Crafts, of Tustin; Fred Crafts, of Costa Mesa, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crafts and family enjoyed a steak bake in Anaheim park recently.

BOULEVARD GARDENS

Mrs. Margaret Mosley, of Long Beach, was a recent guest of her mother in Boulevard Gardens.

Mrs. Laura Kelley Nelson was visited recently by her husband and son, Miles Nelson, and George Kelley, of Bakersfield, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Leary. Mrs. Nelson is confined to the home as the result of a stroke suffered some time ago.

Our Children

BY ANGELO PATRI

TELEPHONE MANNERS

There was a telephone storm in Betty's house the other night. Betty is a pretty girl and "popular." You know it is a sign of this much coveted popularity when many boys call on the telephone. Betty had no need for worry on that score. Right after dinner the telephone began to ring and there began a series of "Who is it? O, I can't. Really? Tee-hee. You're kidding—Of course I did. Really? You mean it? Well, maybe." Etc., etc., on and on. It made mother fret and father rave, but popularity is popularity.

The telephone rang on the evening in question when Betty had gone to the door to see the boy who had stopped to make certain of his date. Father answered the call. "You don't know who this is," said a gaily crackling breaking boy-voice.

"O, yes I do," said father genially. "It's the village idiot. You have the wrong number. Central will give you the Institution's call if you ask her." And he hung up.

Mother looked aghast. Betty hurried in, having heard the ring and father's voice. "Who was it," she asked, and father told her. Betty stormed and wept. "What will he think of me? You're just as mean as you can be, father. Disgrace me like that. I feel simply terrible." But father only chuckled. "It sure did make me feel good to hand him one," said he. "What I've suffered hearing you two chatter by the hour, and the bills I've paid along with the suffering. He got away easy."

Young people ought to establish a finer code of telephone manners. The telephone is a wonderful social institution. It is too good a friend, too fine to be used cheaply, without dignity or etiquette. Even in making the popularity calls etiquette and manners should be observed.

Don't say, "Guess who this is." Many people have father's feeling upon hearing that introduction. You can say, "Hello Betty," and feel certain that she will know that voice in a million. Hasn't she been waiting for it all evening? Or maybe not. Anyway she will know it and won't be annoyed and irritated by guessing and fearing to make a mistake. Voices are not always true on the phone. Be careful. If you are a girl don't call your boy friend on the telephone to remind him of your existence. Either he dreams of you and you are ever present, or he doesn't. Save the call. Let him make it or not as he chooses. If you like him a lot spare his feelings. His family don't when he answers the call.

Mind your manners. Don't say anything over the line that you would not say face to face. Don't waste time. Don't make calls that pile up expense. If father has to pay excess charges he can't pay for other things you need more. Don't hold the line over the time limit ever. If you are using a party line be meticulous about not holding it overtime. And remember always that a telephone message is likely to be heard by more than the one you address. That, too, touches on the telephone code of good manners.

Mr. Patri has prepared a leaflet entitled, "Self-Measuring Chart," which teaches a child how to examine himself and check up on his behavior. Send for it, addressing your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, Child Psychology Department of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope. (Copyright, 1937, The Bell Syn., Inc.)

The largest stop-watch in the world is used to time races at the Singapore Turf club. The starting gate sets the watch working and the first horse past the post crosses a beam of light which stops the watch and records the time.

SOCIETY

You and Your Friends

Mrs. Floyd Berkland, 1006 Hickory street, accompanied by Mrs. Hilda Pulley of Newport Beach, left Wednesday for Lake Arrowhead, where they will enjoy several days' rest and relaxation in the mountain cabin of one of their friends.

Mrs. Myrtle Brown, 122 East Chestnut street, had the pleasure of a visit the past week from a former Iowa classmate, Mrs. Kara Aesbel Dickenson, now of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Joseph Prevost, 465 West Third street, Tustin, will spend the coming week in Beverly Hills with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bruckman. Mrs. Bruckman will be remembered by friends as Miss Gladys Prevost.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beisser and sons, Stanley and Arnold, 315 South Garvey street plan to spend Sunday in San Diego with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Beisser. The Santa Anaans had as recent guests in their home, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Wornow and daughter, Marian of Hollywood.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Calumpit Auxiliary Sewing Circle and several members of Calumpit camp took part in a monthly affair which had its setting Wednesday in the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walz, 211 Bay avenue, Balboa.

Mrs. Walz is the former Miss Elizabeth Wassum. She and her mother, Mrs. Emma K. Wassum were on the committee for the day, together with Mesdames Katherine Reagan, Mary L. Mann, and Lulu Chalmers. They served covered dish luncheon as a feature of an all day meeting.

Comrades and several of the Circle members played cards during the afternoon. Others spent time working on wheel chair robes for patients at Sattelle hospital. Mrs. Lucella Randal, sewing circle chairman, directed this activity. Members present were Mesdames Della C. Cook, Ann Springer, Myrtle L. Brown, Ada E. Treat, Effie E. Hawley, L. Zora Area, Bess Moberly, Jessie Lowell, Jean H. Tamberling, Rena Wheeler, Naomi McDonald, Bessie Fitzpatrick, Estelle Dresser, Gertrude Rowe, Edna L. Hansen, Alice Gray, Maude Brown, Grace Deek, Frances Allen, Ross Bauer, Bertha Dixon, Bertha Helmer, Ruth Hess, Luella Randall and the committee.

Guests were Master Le Roy Allen and Calumpit camp members, H. C. Moberly, Charles Dixon, C. W. Hannah, Albert Dresser, Henry Helmer, Arthur Lowell, Warren Cook, William Brown, Forrest Gay and Ernest Walz.

General Hugh S. Johnson Says

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Westbrook Pegler did a fine job in his column razing and rigging off of his columnists, including himself, and by an implication as delicate and diaphanous as a kick in the pants—the present writer.

His point is an undertaking to produce incessantly, from day to day, a cluster of critical comments on as many subjects as are covered in an encyclopedia by an authority whose knowledge of most of them must necessarily be thin film, takes either the cheek of a brass monkey or the egg of a bug-house Bonaparte.

It is plainly true, Peg speculates on the question: "Why is a columnist?" That is frequently perplexed this one. He concludes that they are just stuck in he paper as vaudevillian variety or the comic strips although not as tenth as effective or as popular.

I think they are a device to offset editorial comment so that people who don't like the policy of the paper can find a different slant he do like among the columnists and still remain customers.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(UP)—The stock market rallied today after dropping to new lows since 1935. Volume exceeded 2,000,000 shares. Steels stood out on the upside after overcoming small losses when the market was weak in the first hour. Ralls met demand. Chrysler was weak. Wall Street paid more attention to foreign news than 1935. A steel corporation subsidiary reaffirming present prices through the first quarter of 1938.

HOME ECONOMICS should start from and be based on home ownership. One just can't do his best in rented houses. To make home ownership easy, we offer you for $500.00 cash a modern stucco house of 5 fine rooms. Think what it would mean to the stability of your family, to your peace of mind and as an aid to prosperity. We offer this suggestion for your most sincere consideration. We want to show you the property.

NEW KIWANIS OFFICERS

The Santa Ana Kiwanis club yesterday elected Maurice Enderle as its president for the coming year.

And the Kiwanis club also elected Lyle Mitchell, vice president; Ellis C. Diehl treasurer; R. C. Raddant, secretary and Cood Adams, Wilbur Barr, Harry Harlow and Sam Hurwitz as directors.

With this group to lead them for the next 12 months Kiwanians of Santa Ana should make rapid strides. All eight of these men have made a success of their particular lines of business. They will carry the Kiwanis club to new heights.

We congratulate the Kiwanians on their wise choice—a choice that insures that the forward looking policies of former officers of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club will be carried on.

TRANSPLANTED FUROR

It probably is an astute move that the motion picture high command is making, in planning to hold its gaudy, semi-hysterical "world premieres" of motion pictures in other cities than Hollywood.

Seattle gets the first one, with movie stars, formal dress, flood lights, microphone, and all the rest of the trimmings lined up for the opening of the picture on October 29. Later on, other films will "open" in various other cities, with the same splurge in each case.

As a means of publicity, and as a device to bring the fans into contact with the stars, all of this probably will be extremely effective. And yet—well, somehow, this kind of thing always has seemed typically Hollywood. It is the sort of thing to be expected of that surprising and fantastic place. Will it go so well in soberer, less movie-mad cities?

WORTHWHILE EDUCATION

The Valencia high school at Placentia apparently is making a successful effort to keep boys and girls interested in agriculture through a course of study in its class rooms.

En route to Kansas City at the present time are four of the Valencia high school boys. They will represent the state of California in a national stock judging contest. They won this honor through competition with other youths from all parts of the state.

Cooperating with the state agricultural department, Santa Fe railroad officials, at a public assembly in the Valencia high school presented each of the boys with checks to cover all their expenses to and from the Kansas City Live Stock Show.

These boys have learned something—something that will be of value to them in the years to come. They have been rewarded for hard work. The honor of representing the state in national competition is theirs. They have an equal chance with representatives of the other 47 states in the union to become national champions. Valencia high school is doing a splendid service with its agricultural classes.

The trip to Kansas City will be a memorable occasion for these boys from Orange county. We congratulate them on the success they have attained thus far and hope they go on to win national honors.

A HOUSE DIVIDED

A Golden State with its backbone cracked at the center vertebra, split in two over the dark Tehachapi mountains; the North and the South cut adrift, one from the other. That has been the urging of countless crackpots and zealots, and of many well-meaning crusaders, too, year after year, as long as this writer can remember.

The split has been advocated by individuals of little imagination, who couldn't see that California owes her world-wide recognition to her magnitude and diversification—to Northern forest and lake and gold field—to Southern beach and desert and make-believe movieland. It has been urged by men who didn't pause to consider that California, broken into two states, would only be half as strong—but with twice as many state officers and doubled administrative costs, twice as expensive for the same public to finance and operate; who didn't realize that it takes a long chain of strongly-welded links to make a California.

Those vagrant thoughts have been engendered by receipt of a little blotter in the mail—a blue blotter on which was printed in gold: "Costs, and therefore rates to the public are directly affected by the number of cars which a modern locomotive can pull."

The same mail brought accounts of the break in labor ranks at California ports, with the A. F. of L. splitting away from the C.I.O.—each group taking away its reduced quota of followers, pitting their strength against each other—and breaking the back of an organization which every longshoreman, warehouseman and teamster has hoped to build into a united and effective labor front.

In this case, too, the cost to the public determined by "the number of cars one locomotive can pull." With two heads where there should be one, each trying to serve the same customers, cost of the split-up mounts into millions in additional organization and strike costs, in neglected cargoes, in stagnating and lost business. And, as in every case of wasteful, uneconomic procedure, the long-suffering public pays the freight.

A friend welded into our life is more to us than twice five thousand kinsmen, one in blood.—Euripides.

CONTROLLING SURPLUSES

Yesterday, we pointed out some of the things the President said in his latest radio talk which were sound and would add to the general welfare.

His proposal to limit agricultural surpluses and regulate wages are the things which will be the most difficult to accomplish, and which are not at all understood by many people.

Today, we shall attempt to discuss briefly the difficulty of controlling farm surpluses.

The President is of the opinion that farm surpluses are objectionable. He evidently reasons, as most modern educators do, that total purchasing power comes from wages and profits rather than from production. He seems to reason that by limiting production and, thus keeping up the prices, he will benefit the standard of living of the people as a whole. This has never proved to be true.

How to Limit Surpluses the Question?

There are only three or four ways of limiting surpluses; by prorates, by lot or chance or by the government arbitrarily saying who shall have the right to produce to his fullest extent because of his efficiency, because of his low cost or by destroying or selling abroad at less than cost.

Under the competitive system, those people who have the best methods and consequently the lowest cost, are the ones who continue to produce to their full extent. The consumer is greatly benefited by this efficiency.

But the government does not expect to limit production by eliminating the inefficient. The government undoubtedly expects to prorates and allow all producers to produce a certain percentage of their former production.

It is hardly necessary to consider the lot or chance method, or the other methods of selling below costs abroad as advocated by the Republicans. This is too absurd.

Now, what are the effects of limiting production by prorates? In reality, it means that those who are the most efficient and can produce at the lowest cost are not permitted to use their land and their equipment 100 per cent. It means that those who are inefficient are, thus, permitted to continue to operate. This artificial restraint is to the detriment of all other consumers.

And if every other industry is operated the same way and the efficient are not permitted to use their equipment, natural resources and talents to their full extent, then the consumers as a whole will be deprived of the benefits of the total efficiency in the country.

All Progress From Efficiency

What would have been the effect had the prorates been in effect in the automobile industry and we had attempted to keep the inefficient manufacturers in business? We would not have had the lowest priced cars in America. Illustrations of this kind without number can be given.

Suppose for instance a very economical cotton picker comes into operation. Those who used a cotton picking machine efficiently and other modern equipment and methods, produced cotton for much less than could be produced by inefficient, hand methods would be limited in production if we prorates, in order to prevent surpluses. The prices of cotton, thus, would remain high, our market abroad would be lost and all the consumers would suffer because of the determination on the part of the government to control and limit surpluses.

Caste System

It would seem to us that to guarantee the prices, by limiting production of the major crops, would work a great injustice to all other producers of farm crops. Those who are limited in the production of the controlled crops would, unless prevented, use their land, their resources and their energy in producing other farm crops that were not regulated. This would greatly reduce the reward to all other farmers who were not protected.

Sure Dilemma

The government will immediately find itself in a dilemma and be obliged to limit and control the production of all farm crops in order to in any way approach what everyone will concede as justice. When the government starts in this campaign of making it comfortable and pleasant for the inefficient workers in a certain line, it certainly will have to go into the industrial line, the commercial line. The result will be greatly restricting the efficient and encouraging the inefficient.

No place in all history has this plan ever worked out successfully. It is amazing that the people of America can even consider consenting to the government attempting to limit the amount of production any efficient man can produce, in an attempt to regulate prices.

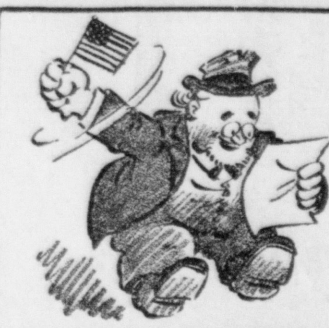

It makes no difference whatever to the farmer whether cotton sells for 4½ cents or 40 cents a pound. It is what the 4½ cents or the 40 cents will buy that is of interest to the farmer. Of course, if the farmer is in debt it does make a difference. When the government attempts to protect the debtor by keeping prices up, either by curtailing production or by artificially raising prices by credit inflation, it has started something that, in the long run, holds down all the workers in their standard of living in order to attempt to help out those who went in debt with the idea of making profits. The attempt to protect the debtor without doing more harm than it does good, is an operation that has not been successful in the past.

CONSTITUTION NOT ENOUGH

A wise constitution alone is not sufficient to serve as a guardian and protector for its citizens nor for the stranger that is within its gates, for unsupported it becomes nothing more than a scrap of paper, containing a bit of interesting and ancient history. Notwithstanding the fact that the constitution of Mexico closely follows that of the United States, Mexico has failed miserably to function as a representative republic.

The less the United States supports the principles embodied in the constitution the more trouble we seem to have.

Questions

DOES CONGRESS APPROVE OF THE NEW FOREIGN POLICY? IF SO, WHY DID IT PASS THE "NEUTRALITY ACT"?

IF THE U.S. BELIEVES IN COLLECTIVE SECURITY, WHY DOESN'T IT JOIN THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS?

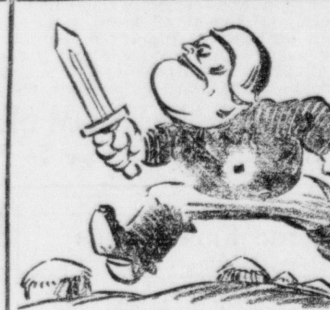

IF LEAGUE MEMBERSHIP WOULD MEAN "FOREIGN ENTANGLEMENTS" WHAT DOES CO-OPERATION WITH THE LEAGUE MEAN?

IF WE DON'T THINK THE LEAGUE MEMBERS ARE CAPABLE OF COLLECTIVE ACTION, WHY CO-OPERATE WITH THEM?

IF BRITAIN BELIEVES IN COLLECTIVE ACTION IN ASIA WHY DIDN'T IT SUPPORT US WHEN JAPAN INVADED MANCHURIA?

IF BRITAIN AND FRANCE BELIEVE IN COLLECTIVE ACTION IN EUROPE, WHY DIDN'T THEY STOP MUSSOLINI'S CONQUEST?

WE CONDEMN JAPAN FOR VIOLATING THE KELLOGG PACT. WHY DIDN'T WE CONDEMN ITALY FOR THE SAME THING?

HOW CAN AGGRESSOR NATIONS BE "QUARANTINED" WITHOUT THE THREAT OF FORCE?

Register Clearing House

(The articles under the Clearing House are published for the purpose of an exchange of ideas and are not necessarily the opinion of this newspaper. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.)

To the Editor of The Register:

The editorial headed, "Worth Thinking About", in The Register of October 13th, is certainly worth thinking about. And this John Ford, if there be such a person, said to have written the piece in the Saturday Evening Post, entitled, "I Work For a Power Company", is to be pitied.

I have not read Ford's article and have no intention of doing so, having little faith in the integrity of the periodical in which it appears. But John, judging from the quotations from his article, would seem to be groping in a mental fog. The editor himself, from his comments, appears fogged. And maybe the foggy area extends to and even beyond the writer of this letter. Perhaps all of us are groping around in a deep dank mental fog and not a single soul of us knows it. This much conceded, let us proceed, to-wit:

John says he is employed by a power corporation, admitting his salary to be between one and two hundred dollars a month, and that he and his family live in "a small house on which there is a big mortgage". And then John goes on in a tone which clearly indicates that he is afraid of something, and that something is nothing less than the Tennessee Valley Authority. He is afraid that the T. V. A. is going to take away his present master's profits and his own job, and leave him hanging high and dry with his mortgage.

But the joke is on John. Of course the T. V. A. will take the master's profits. That is precisely what it intends to do. It intends to take his job, too. But it promises to give him a better one—if he will let it. And it promises to give him a better house, too, and a bigger one—FREE from mortgage. Of course, it is all up to John.

Why he will cling savagely to the one order that will never provide him with anything more in life than a monthly salary of between one and two hundred dollars and a fat mortgage, in preference to at least a chance of something better is beyond my understanding. An economic system that fails to provide a man with a home for his family, as well as a job that is at least one jump beyond slavery, is not worthy to continue in existence.

And, of course, that is just what is coming about. The old order is disappearing, the new is slowly on its way. Only a hopelessly prejudiced person would declare that it is not, and out of the present chaos will come some sort of system that will be fairly free from mortgaged homes and all kindred phases of economic slavery.

But human beings will always hate change. They hate to be aroused out of their established mental comforts, even if those comforts are based upon actual discomforts. The new born baby squalls at being forced out of the comfort of its mother's womb. The John Fords grumble at the prospect of losing the responsibility of their mortgaged homes. Our Editor hates the promises of a Socialized Society. And this writer hates nothing so fearfully as the discomfort of a new pair of shoes.

It is a terrible thing for a person to have his comfort pinched, whether it be of his person or his prejudice.

WE, THE PEOPLE

By JAY FRANKLIN

COLLAPSE OF THE "DEMOCRATIC FRONT?"

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Weekend developments following the President's Chicago "Prince of Peace" speech, suggest that co-operation between the democratic big three—England, France and America—is about to collapse.

The Moor in the diplomatic woodpile is Spain. Substantial business interests in England either favored General Franco or expect him to win. The powerful influence of the Catholic church supports Mussolini's armed invasion of Spain, as the old rule of "an eye for an eye" seems to have supplanted that of "turning the other cheek" when attacks on religion are reported. France threatened to throw open her frontier to arms and "volunteers" for the Loyalists but Mussolini called the Gallic bluff and today P. J. Philip, the well-informed Englishman who represents "The New York Times" in Paris, reports that the French foreign office is backing down in the face of fresh Italian reinforcements to the Franco rebellion.

Both France and England have long been reconciled to a possible Franco victory. The French, however, fear lest Fascist victory shall be rewarded by territorial and political concessions to Italy and Germany. The British think that this fear is exaggerated. This is probably true so far as Hitler is concerned, but Mussolini's price for abandoning his pound of bleeding flesh is recognition of Italy's conquest of Abyssinia. And that would mean the moral bankruptcy of the League of Nations and a frank return to the tooth-and-claw diplomacy of pre-war days.

The British problem is peculiarly delicate. London wants to protect its trade, investments and possessions in Asia from Japan's thundering advance. American co-operation is essential, if Japan is to be checked. Possibly it would be more exact to say that American-Japanese hostility is essential if England is to play the balance-of-power game in Asia. It is worth noting that the London government has approached the proposed nine-power conference with reserve, in an admitted effort to avoid offending Japan. In all of my life, I have known only one man who was so tricky that, when there was no one else around for him to double-cross, he would double-cross himself. He was not English but he was educated in England.

Now London faces the double-barreled job of condoning Mus-solini's undeclared war in Spain and of condemning Japan's undeclared war in China, while convincing American opinion that this course of intelligent opportunistic is a world-wide defense of democratic self-government and the rights of small nations to self-determination.

Fortunately for President Roosevelt, American opinion lacks the elasticity to follow such a policy. What we condemn in the present situation are the deeds of rather than the reasons for, aggression. We condemn the submarine sinking, the bombing of open towns, the undeclared wars, the execution of prisoners of war and the indiscriminate murder of innocent non-combatants. It is true that we are congenitally unsympathetic to any new political development but these are the particular things which characterized the President's protest in the name of humanity.

No such things are happening in Spain no less than in China and our liberal opinion could not understand any policy which laughed off the atrocities in Spain while groaning over the atrocities in China. This is the President's "out" in the situation provoked by his Chicago utterances.

For there is not the ghost of a chance that we will support British imperial interests in Asia unless England cleans up the Spanish situation along lines acceptable to our ideas of democracy.

The mere fact that we have raised the Asiatic question creates an opportunity for Mussolini which was lacking before our state department joined the League's condemnation of Japan. Before that time, Anglo-French pressure was slowly forcing Italy to abandon the Spanish adventure. Now Mussolini can exploit the Far Eastern crisis by the simple process of standing pat. If General Franco wins, after all, he will owe his victory in part to American diplomacy.

The net result of the situation is to expand the opportunities for aggression in both Europe and Asia, and to demonstrate the lack of solidarity between a democratic America which is remote and uninformed, a popular front France which is under English and German pressure, and the democratic English homeland of the world's greatest empire—an empire created by centuries of aggression and preserved by generations of skilled and realistic British diplomacy.

CITY OF PEACE

Mrs. Guppy (Thinking of Geneva)—Let me see—what is the name of that place where so much has been done to promote the peace of the world?

Guppy—I suppose you mean Reno?—Pathfinder.

TOO BOASTFUL

Motorist—"I've had my car a whole year and I haven't paid a penny for repairs since I bought it."

Friend—"Yes, so the man at the garage tells me."—Providence Journal.

STARTED EARLY

Young Bill—"I think we are much better today than in your time—better than they were thousands of years ago—even the babies swore in the olden days."

"How do you make that out?"

"Why," chuckled Bill, "it says in the Bible that Job cursed the day he was born."—The Rail.

WOMEN IN INDUSTRY HAVE GREATER HEALTH HAZARDS THAN MEN FACE

This is the fourth of a series of articles in which Dr. Morris Fishbein discusses diseases and other health hazards in industry.

The occupational hazards of women differ in several particulars from those which affect men—first because of the difference in the nature of the constitution of the woman worker and second because of the special work in which woman may be employed.

The World War increased tremendously the total amount of employment among women. In some populations, notably those of the smaller foreign countries, more than 40 per cent of women are employed. In England and Wales, in Sweden and Belgium 25 per cent of women are employed; in the United States about 17 per cent of women work for a living.

It is well established that industrial disease will aggravate or increase the number of conditions from which young women suffer, including disturbances of the blood, the nervous system and the organs associated with childbirth.

According to the statistics published by various sickness insurance groups abroad, the women suffer much more from industrial conditions than do men. The average death rate for women in industry is higher than the general average, and also higher than the rate for men of comparable age.

It is found that women in industry are more susceptible to fatigue and monotony than are men. In England it was found that women employed in light work for 60 hours a week and 91 per cent more accidents than men doing the same amount of work. When the hours were reduced to 40 per week, the women still had 48 per cent more accidents than the men.

Altogether, however, it is the function of maternity which raises the greatest question in relationship to woman and work. Pregnancy hazards are greater for the woman in industry than they would be for the same woman under ordinary conditions.

Among the chief dangers to the woman at work are positions which require that the body be held in the same position—either upright, seated or bent—for long periods of time, since such permanent postures have a bad influence on the tissues.

Because of the hair and the clothing worn by women, they are much more susceptible to poisonous dusts than are men working in the same industry. Certain positions held by women, particularly clean-up jobs in large office buildings, may keep them awake most of the night and during the day they attend to their household duties so that actually their hours of work are far longer than those of men.

In some European countries where women serve as porters in the railroad stations they are observed to suffer with deformities of the spine and of the pelvis, indicating quite definitely that women are not adapted to heavy weight carrying.

Finally, all of the diseases peculiar to women are found to be present in a much higher percentage among working women than among those who are not employed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. — The question of whose baby the measles may not be as simple as Dr. Roosevelt put it in his fireside diagnosis.

The president knows both his babies and his measles. As an experienced papa, he stuck a sly and appropriate safety pin into "the big manufacturers." He told how some are always ridiculing his farm policies as "economic scarcity" but he noticed they did not hesitate, in times of industrial overproduction, to shut down their own plants and throw men out of work. Then came the thrust: "When it is their baby who has the measles, hey call it 'sound business judgment.'"

Whatever you call it, there seems to have been an un-noticed baby on Mr. R's knee lately, bearing a rash that looks like the very same ailment. Those who have been peering over the transom have been privileged to see the Fort Peck project under care of political nursemaids and marked with exactly the same pox.

In that case, the big government has been throwing out of work the little employees of the big copper companies, by taking away their electrical power in order to continue the dam work.

The trail of evidence in the case starts in an obscure ruling by the interstate commerce commission two months ago.

The Southern Pacific railroad applied on August 7 for an emergency decrease in copper rates to eastern smelters. The reason offered was that Montana refineries were being closed, "due to the shortage of power caused by heavy demand of the Fort Peck project and water shortage."

Two days later the commission acknowledged the emergency by issuing the order for the lower rates.

Subsequently the war department engineers were holding hearings upon another matter, when telegrams and letters came pouring in from Montana charging the government with throwing men out of work.

The Montana public service commission appealed to federal authorities to release some of its power being used at Fort Peck "to partially relieve the present unemployment situation in our industrial cities." A telegram in the record charged the Orphan Girl mine, slag plants, copper refineries, rolling mills and wire mills were being shut down. Mayor McCavel of Anaconda reported 632 thrown out of work there; another report said there was a 25 per cent shut down in smelter operations.

The word around here was that 14,000 persons were thrown out of work in private employment while the government kept 6,000 men working directly and indirectly on Fort Peck by taking priority use of the power. The war department is inclined to disbelieve these figures. Their records show 4,144 working on Fort Peck August 1, and 3,777 last Saturday. Apparently nowhere here is there a convincing estimate in the record of the actual number in private employment who suffered.

The latest report is that the situation is now being rapidly corrected. Local industry is resuming operations. The war department explanation of why the government maintained a pet project at the expense of private employment is one of necessity. Damage of millions of dollars would have been caused to the dam work if their operations had been curtailed they say. Furthermore they were not convinced that more men were thrown out of private employment than would have been released, by the government at the dam if operations had shut down. Also they are inclined to blame the drought and the Montana power company for letting its reservoirs get too low.

Whoever was responsible, this seems to be one time when a White House baby has the measles, although no quarantine signs were hung on the door of the executive mansion to advertise the case.

Liberalists are screaming in their cloistered dens here that Mr. Roosevelt is switching advisers. They did not like the Chicago speech or the budget balancing and price policies in the fireside chat. A little under-cutting by them certainly seems to be in the offing for the coming session.

What may have set the liberals off more than you would expect was: They recognized the identity of the "leading national economist" whom Mr. Roosevelt quoted, in his fireside chat without using the name. Unfortunately for them he is not one of their boys and Sprague who departed this government in dismay several years ago,

Little Benny's Note Book

By LEE PAPE

Pop was smoking to himself in his private chair and I thought, G, I wonder if it's true?

Meaning about one person being able to make another person yawn just by yawning in their face and making them feel the same way, and the next time I saw pop looking my direction I yawned a big artificial yawn.

Pop not seeming to be effected, and pritty soon I yawned another one, and he said, if you cover up that yawning crater with your hand it mite be less dangerous for the unsuspecting villagers living near the mountain sides.

And he kept on smoking to himself and I thought, I must be leaving something out, G, I know, I'm leaving out the sounds.

And I yawned the fearnest yawn of all and made loud sleepy sounds with it, only instead of yawning myself pop said, When I want to see and hear a hippopotamus I'll go to the zoo, if it's all a same to you. Now go to bed where you can yawn yourself to sleep without marring the scenery, he said.

Well jimminy, pop, I've got a half a hour yet, I said, and pop said, That means you'll get an added half hour of the sleep that your system appears to be crying out for.

Well gosh, pop, I'm not really sleepy, I said, and pop said, O, so it's my company that reacts that way on you?

No sir, pop, G, I was only making a scientific experiment, I said, and pop said, Science in its fallward march takes a heavy toll of human matters, and you are one of those useful but unsung victims. Now are you going to use your self starter or do you have to be cranked? he said.

Meaning the end of the argument.
